Dog-Tired Khrush Visits Corn Farm

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, beginning to show signs of heavy fatigue, started another rugged round of activities today with a 75-mile automobile trip for a close look at Iowa's tall corn.

The Soviet Premier, though obviously happy at the friendly reception he received in America's corn belt, showed definite signs Tuesday night of being dog-tired after more than a week of strenuous touring, speaking and arguing.

Khrushchev travelled to the farm of Roswell (Bob) Garst near Coon Rapids for a look at American methods of raising corn and producing animal fodder, subjects close to Khrushchev's heart. Garst has been Khrushchev's guest in the Soviet Union several times.

The route to the farm took the Soviet Premier over rolling, green Iowa countryside, rich with fields of tall, waving corn and dotted with trim, prosperous-looking farm buildings. In some of the fields, the corn still was too green for harvesting.

Some corn is ready for harvesting in the Coon Rapids area, and farmers there intended to put on a harvesting show for the Soviet leader.

On Khrushchev's schedule was a stop at a prize field called by farmer Garst the "mile of maize." The grain there has been so carefully cultivated that the field has the look of a garden.

Khrushchev's demeanor Tuesday night at a civic dinner in his honor and his facial expression reflected happiness at his Iowa reception, almost to the point of being benign.

But for the first time, Khrushchev did not off-the-cuff speaking. And for the first time, he did not even read his own speech. The interpreter did it for him, in English. As Khrushchev stood by listening, his eyes closed occasionally as if from deep fatigue. He seemed pale.

As plans went forward to receive the Soviet leader at the Roswell Garst farm near Coon Rapids today, Khrushchev's aides were understood to be trying to dissuade him from trying to pack in too much activity.

A change in schedule had been suggested so that he could get out early and see more details of Iowa farm life before leaving later in the day for Iowa State University at Ames.

For Khrushchev, the speech delivered to the civic dinner was the most mild of pronouncements in comparison with his other blasts along the route of his American tour.

The prepared text called upon Americans to enter into competition with Soviets in agriculture, instead of in the manufacture of weapons of mass production.

Khrushchev assured his audience his proposal for complete disarmament, placed before the United Nations General Assembly Friday, was aimed solely at securing a lasting peace among nations.

If he had accusations against Americans, they were mild, without the familiar Khrushchev punch. There are some newspapers, he said, and some persons in the United States who consider the Soviet seven-year plan "as a kind of threat, a threat of Soviet economic offensive, a Soviet economic menace."

Then he added: "But the question is, what kind of menace, and to whom, can be our desire to increase our agricultural production, for instance?"

"What is wrong about our wanting to compete with you, for instance, in the production of corn, meat or milk? Hardly anyone would contend that the consumption of more milk, butter and meat would make the Soviet people aggressive."

The remarks brought spontaneous applause from the audience. Khrushchev went on: "This competition is more useful than the race to stockpile hydrogen bombs. We want the fields to be furrowed by peaceful plows and not by rockets and tank tracks."

No Passenger Linked to Ship Mystery

NEW YORK (AP) — A Boston detective says he has found no evidence or apparent motive to indicate that any one aboard the Dutch steamer Utrecht had anything to do with the death at sea of pretty Lynn Kauffman.

Police Capt. Joseph B. Fallon made the statement Tuesday after another round of questioning crewmen and passengers of the steamer here.

After Mrs. Kauffman's body was found in Boston harbor Saturday, although she died by drowning, he believed she had met violence before she drowned.

But Fallon appears to believe that the severe injuries the dead woman suffered could have been caused by an accidental or suicidal plunge from the ship, plus battering upon rocks in the harbor after death.

The suicide theory was discounted by Dr. Stanley Spector, St. Louis professor of Far Eastern studies who was Mrs. Kauffman's employer.

She was secretary to Spector and lived with his family. On the fatal voyage she was returning from the Orient with Mr. Spector, the three Spector children, and a teen-aged Chinese boy the Sectors planned to adopt. Spector had flown home earlier.

He said he got a letter Monday that she had mailed at Port Said, Egypt, saying she was happy to be coming back to the United States and anxious to resume her studies.

State Hospital Construction Schedule Eyed

17 Improvements May Be Compiled By First of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If everything goes according to plan—though nobody really believes it will—about 22 million dollars' worth of improvements could be completed at 17 mental hygiene and correction institutions by Jan. 1.

There are 28 projects, involved, and the Mental Hygiene-Correction Department said today that seven might be finished this month.

Nobody in the department's construction planning and equipment section really likes to come out and say a certain project will be completed by a specific date. Neither do State Public Works Department officials, for that matter.

The improvements program is large scale and long range. There are a lot of people and varying conditions involved. It doesn't take much to get off schedule.

At the moment, three other projects are virtually complete but still unaccepted by the Mental Hygiene-Correction Department. One is a 520-bed structure for care of aged persons at Cincinnati's Longview State Hospital. Minor adjustments are being made, but delivery of new beds has been held up, apparently because of the steel strike.

Department acceptance of a reception and intensive therapy unit at Cambridge State Hospital and the facilities at Zaleski Youth Camp, awaits relatively minor adjustments, too.

Part of the power plant at Lebanon Correctional Institution, construction of additional floors at Cleveland Receiving Hospital, medical-surgical units at Orient State Institute, the razing of two cottages at Girls' Industrial School near Delaware, and a parking lot at Toledo State Hospital are set tentatively for completion by the end of this month.

Sometime in October, a 200-bed patient building at Hawthornden State Hospital (Macedonia), additional power plant and security facilities at Lebanon, site development for three buildings at Hawthornden, and a 100-bed psychiatric treatment hospital at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus may be ready.

During November, it's hoped to complete piecemeal repairs at Mohican Youth Camp, a reception classification center addition and site improvements at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, additional work at Lebanon, a 100-bed patient building at Hawthornden, a wing on Summit County Receiving Hospital, electrical and roofing work at Fairhill (East Cleveland) and reconstruction of a laundry building (plus an academic-activities building) at Girls' Industrial School.

December completion dates have been set tentatively for reception and treatment units at Hawthornden, Columbus and Longview (Jan. 1) State Hospitals, a food preparation-service unit at Massillon State Hospital, improvement of the pasteurizing plant at Orient, a receiving-training unit at Rollman Receiving Hospital, rehabilitation of a new wing at Woodside Receiving Hospital and a laundry building at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

Steel Negotiators Ignore Another Appeal from Ike

12 in Family Die As Boat Capsizes

MUNISING, Mich. (AP)—"They wanted to get in the same boat because it would be more fun." A bewildered father—the only survivor of a boating accident that took the lives of his wife, 10 children and his brother—was too grief-stricken for tears as he described the tragedy to state police.

"I was very confused—it all happened so suddenly," said Leonard Larson, 42, as the bodies were brought ashore from Lake McKewee in Upper Michigan's Hiawatha National Forest Tuesday.

The family, on a day's outing to pick wild cranberries, had piled into a 12-foot outboard motorboat. It capsized 40 feet from shore. None could swim. The father saved himself by climbing atop the overturned boat.

Helpless, he saw his wife, children and his brother, Harry, 64, go down in water so clear the bodies could be seen 15 feet down. All the Larsons' children but the oldest daughter, Doris May, 16, were along. She was attending high school in Marquette.

Leonard Larson is a sawmill worker in the little lumbering town of Skandia, 30 miles from the scene of the tragedy.

The children were out of classes because the village school was closed for the day for repairs.

The boat belonged to the uncle, a bachelor, who helped care for some of the children at his home and was always included in the family circle. The uncle also worked at the sawmill.

The victims were the mother, Doris Larson, 41; the uncle, and the children—Arthur, 15; Shirley, 13; Harry, 10; Marlene, 9; Freddie, 8; Carol, 7; Robert, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Melody, 4, and Terry Lee, 5 months.

Fantastic Bank Robbery Thwarted by Police Siege

CLEVELAND (AP)—A fantastic bank robbery plot was thwarted today by a police siege at the bank branch where the manager was being held. The holdup man died, apparently by his own hand.

Police said the holdupman had a New York driver's license in the name of Lee C. Terry and had a rental car slip in the same name.

What happened to a woman who helped him kidnap Herbert Fox, manager of the Cleveland Trust Co. branch, is not known. The couple had taken Fox from his home, leaving behind a device they said was a bomb.

Fox' daughter, Marilyn, 18, freed herself from bonds and called police, who surrounded the bank and posted men on the roofs of nearby buildings.

Police sent tear gas shells zooming into the bank, and the holdup man let Fox and some other bank employees go.

Then police Chief Frank Story spoke over a public address system, telling the man to come out or "We will come in shooting and destroy you. You have 10 minutes."

When six policemen rushed into the building they found the man dead on the floor, with a .32 caliber revolver beside him.

Bank employee Joseph Noffziger, 19, was wounded seriously in the shooting when a bullet struck him under the heart.

Fox' daughter said she and her father were in the kitchen eating breakfast when a man and a woman came to the door. Here is her account of what happened then:

The woman asked to use the telephone, saying they had had trouble with the car.

Fox showed the couple into the dining room, then "I heard a scuffle and heard my father shout, 'Don't, don't.'"

Marilyn ran to the room and saw her father struggling with the man.

"I think my father pushed the man against the wall. Then the woman brought out a gun and stopped the fight," Marilyn said.

Marilyn's sister, Bonnie, 10, and her mother came to the dining room.

"The woman told us they didn't want any trouble and weren't trying to hurt us," she said. The couple took Fox into the living room to "show him something."

"They had a briefcase, and when dad came out he was white," Marilyn said.

She said the couple showed her father an object that was ticking and told him it was a bomb.

"The woman told us not to touch anything. She got a rope. I think it was in the briefcase too, and she tied Bonnie, mother and me up, hand and foot." They were not gagged. The woman pulled down the window shades and switched on the radio.

"She said, 'You're sensible people, and we know you won't do anything,'" Marilyn said.

Marilyn managed to get loose and called police.

She described the woman as a "dirty blonde with short, straggly hair," wearing a knitted blue suit, about 5 feet 4, between 30 and 35 years old.

The "bomb" was described by police as two dry cells fastened inside a brief case and wired to a box filled with black powder. The black powder turned out to be coal dust. There was an alarm clock which was ticking.

Church Invitation To Khrush Is Urged

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he is disappointed that no attempt has been made thus far to make a spiritual impact on Nikita Khrushchev during the Soviet Premier's American tour.

The evangelist said the failure to get Khrushchev to church or to show him America's spiritual strength "may prove the greatest blunder" of those who arranged the visit.

Khrushchev probably would be greatly impressed if he could see the interest of the American people in religion, Graham said in an interview.

Mediator Says Talks Showing No Progress

Labor Secretary Says Collective Bargaining 'May Be on Trial'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower issued another call today for both sides in the steel strike to settle the dispute and again both sides appeared to be ignoring the plea.

In New York, the nation's top mediator declared there still has been no progress toward settling the 71-day-old controversy and Steelworkers Union President David McDonald echoed the statement.

Eisenhower repeated that it is time to "get down to hard, intensive bargaining."

The appeal was relayed to reporters by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell following a long conference with Eisenhower.

"We all feel that free collective bargaining may be on trial here," Mitchell said.

"Both management and labor should recognize this fact," Mitchell declined to predict what government action, if any, would be taken if labor and management failed to reach a settlement in the strike, now 71 days old.

He likewise declined to predict the timing of government action, should action be taken.

The most probable government action would be invoking the Taft-Hartley law's injunction provision.

An injunction, if issued, would send striking steelworkers back to the mills for at least 80 days, but they would be free to strike again if no settlement was reached in the meantime.

Mitchell said Eisenhower feels both parties to the dispute should recognize their responsibility not only to the steelworkers, but to others thrown out of work as a result of the strike and to the general public as well.

"The situation is just about the same as it was when we entered the negotiations on July 16," said Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Finnegan voiced this view shortly after McDonald told reporters there has been "absolutely no progress" made in almost two weeks of subcommittee bargaining on local issues.

McDonald also said that union subcommittee members termed the attitude of industry subcommittees as one of "arrogant adamy."

Finnegan said the subcommittees would continue their meetings through today and Thursday, but that the top echelon men would recess their talks until Friday.

At that time, he said, the key negotiators hope to have some kind of reports from the subcommittees.

Showing of Teeth May Cost Him Job

CINCINNATI (AP) — Patrolman Charles L. Gellenbeck may lose his job because he showed his teeth to Police Chief Stanley Schrotel.

Schrotel said Gellenbeck approached him last week and happily displayed new dentures.

The chief said he smelled alcohol on the patrolman's breath and ordered a chemical test.

O. E. Hamilton, city safety director, recommended at a hearing Tuesday that Gellenbeck be fired on department charges of being under the influence of alcohol when on duty.

Iowa Girls Slip By U.S. Security Corps

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Four Des Moines teen-age school girls slipped through security officers at Hotel Fort Des Moines Tuesday and made their way up 10 flights to the penthouse suite reserved for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Stunned security men whisked the girls back down on an elevator and in the lobby they met Khrushchev who had just arrived at the hotel. The Premier greeted each girl with a smile and said he was happy to see them.

First Fund Report Is Due Tomorrow

The 1959 Pickaway County Community Fund drive was picking up steam today. The first financial report is due tomorrow.

Five agencies which operate in the county depend on the fund for finances. They are the Youth Canteen, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Goal for this year's campaign is $30,000.

Six training sessions are scheduled for residential and county solicitors next week. The county and local house-to-house campaign begins October 5.

First residential session, for captains and solicitors, is set for 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Heine, 109 E. Mound St. Other sessions are at 10

a. m. next Wednesday at the Heine residence, and at 8 p. m. October 1, at the home of Mrs. Karl Mason, 302 Watt St.

Chip Bohlen Long a Foe Of Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, soon to become a top Washington adviser on the Soviet Union, was talking back to the Soviets long before the era of Khrushchev diplomacy.

Once back in 1946, Alexander Bogomolov, then Soviet ambassador to Paris, stopped Bohlen in the hall during a foreign ministers meeting in the French capital.

"I thought you Americans were traders," said Bogomolov, referring to discussions about the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

"We are traders," replied Bohlen in his usual calm tone.

"We will trade dollars and we will trade goods. But we will not trade human beings."

For Bohlen, this was just one more incident in a lifelong career of dealing with the Soviets. His diplomatic record as a Soviet specialist cannot be matched among U.S. Foreign Service officers except perhaps by George F. Kennan, now retired.

Now 55 and eligible for retirement after 30 years in the Foreign Service, Bohlen is returning from a 2½-year assignment as ambassador to Manila to become a special assistant to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on Soviet affairs.

President Eisenhower, one of Bohlen's boosters, may take the personable diplomat along on the President's trip to the U.S.S.R. this fall.

Bohlen has spent nearly one-third of his long diplomatic career in the U.S.S.R. He first joined the Moscow Embassy staff in 1934, shortly after this country recognized the Communist regime.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A 48-hour general strike by 100 unions today paralyzed Argentina's economy. Thousands of workers walked out Tuesday when the government rejected a list of grievances because there were more political than constructive.

Sheriff Heads for Arizona To Return Alleged Robber

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff will leave in the near future for Flagstaff, Ariz. to pick up a man charged with participating in armed robbery here.

Thomas M. Cartwright, 34, formerly of Washington C. H., is awaiting transportation back to the County Jail to stand trial for participating in the stickup of Mom and Pop's place, Route 2, Williamsport, on Sept. 5, 1958.

Cartwright was apprehended in flagstaff by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution of the armed robbery committed here.

The prisoner, with a long record of arrests, refused to waive extradition and the necessary legal steps have been taken for his return.

Sheriff Radcliff is awaiting the momentary arrival of papers to start his Arizona trip. Fayette County Sheriff Orland (Tubby) Hayes will accompany Radcliff on his mission.

According to confessions of the other two men participating in the robbery, Cartwright is the man who held the blue steel revolver on William Kadel, owner of Mom and Pop's Place.

Virgil L. Boggs and Paul H. Hurler, who participated in the robbery both received stiff 10 to 25 year sentences in the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus, in County Common Pleas Court.

Cartwright was indicted by the September 1958 Pickaway County Grand Jury for armed robbery but had left for parts unknown immediately after the robbery.

Boggs and Hurler were arrested the same day the robbery took place by Washington C. H. Police. Cartwright will stand trial here for armed robbery.

Fayette County has a warrant for his arrest for skipping bond. The FBI apprehended Cartwright through fingerprints.

Mediator Says Talks Showing No Progress

Labor Secretary Says Collective Bargaining 'May Be on Trial'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower issued another call today for both sides in the steel strike to settle the dispute and again both sides appeared to be ignoring the plea.

In New York, the nation's top mediator declared there still has been no progress toward settling the 71-day-old controversy and Steelworkers Union President David McDonald echoed the statement.

Eisenhower repeated that it is time to "get down to hard, intensive bargaining."

The appeal was relayed to reporters by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell following a long conference with Eisenhower. "We all feel that free collective bargaining may be on trial here," Mitchell said.

"Both management and labor should recognize this fact."

Mitchell declined to predict what government action, if any, would be taken if labor and management failed to reach a settlement in the strike, now 71 days old.

He likewise declined to predict the timing of government action, should action be taken.

The most probable government action would be invoking the Taft-Hartley law's injunction provision. An injunction, if issued, would send striking steelworkers back to the mills for at least 80 days, but they would be free to strike again if no settlement was reached in the meantime.

Mitchell said Eisenhower feels both parties to the dispute should recognize their responsibility not only to the steelworkers, but to others thrown out of work as a result of the strike and to the general public as well.

"The situation is just about the same as it was when we entered the negotiations on July 16," said Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Finnegan voiced this view shortly after McDonald told reporters there has been "absolutely no progress" made in almost two weeks of subcommittee bargaining on local issues.

McDonald also said that union subcommittee members termed the attitude of industry subcommittees as one of "arrogant adamicity."

Finnegan said the subcommittees would continue their meetings through today and Thursday, but that the top echelon men would recess their talks until Friday.

At that time, he said, the key negotiators hope to have some kind of reports from the subcommittees.

Showing of Teeth May Cost Him Job

CINCINNATI (AP) — Patrolman Charles L. Gellenbeck may lose his job because he showed his teeth to Police Chief Stanley Schrotel.

Schrotel said Gellenbeck approached him last week and happily displayed new dentures.

The chief said he smelled alcohol on the patrolman's breath and ordered a chemical test.

O. E. Hamilton, city safety director, recommended at a hearing Tuesday that Gellenbeck be fired on department charges of being under the influence of alcohol when on duty.

Iowa Girls Slip By U.S. Security Corps

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Four Des Moines teen-age school girls slipped through security officers at Hotel Fort Des Moines Tuesday and made their way up 10 flights to the penthouse suite reserved for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Stunned security men whisked the girls back down on an elevator and in the lobby they met Khrushchev who had just arrived at the hotel. The Premier greeted each girl with a smile and said he was happy to see them.

First Fund Report Is Due Tomorrow

The 1959 Pickaway County Community Fund drive was picking up steam today. The first financial report is due tomorrow.

Five agencies which operate in the county depend on the fund for finances. They are the Youth Canteen, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Goal for this year's campaign is $30,000.

Six training sessions are scheduled for residential and county solicitors next week. The county and local house-to-house campaign begins October 5.

First residential session, for captains and solicitors, is set for 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Heine, 109 E. Mound St. Other sessions are at 10

a. m. next Wednesday at the Heine residence, and at 8 p. m. October 1, at the home of Mrs. Karl Mason, 302 Watt St.

Chip Bohlen Long a Foe Of Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, soon to become a top Washington adviser on the Soviet Union, was talking back to the Soviets long before the era of Khrushchev diplomacy.

Once back in 1946, Alexander Bogomolov, then Soviet ambassador to Paris, stopped Bohlen in the hall during a foreign ministers meeting in the French capital.

"I thought you Americans were traders," said Bogomolov, referring to discussions about the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

"We are traders," replied Bohlen in his usual calm tone.

"We will trade dollars and we will trade goods. But we will not trade human beings."

For Bohlen, this was just one more incident in a lifelong career of dealing with the Soviets. His diplomatic record as a Soviet specialist cannot be matched among U.S. Foreign Service officers except perhaps by George F. Kennan, now retired.

Now 55 and eligible for retirement after 30 years in the Foreign Service, Bohlen is returning from a 2½-year assignment as ambassador to Manila to become a special assistant to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on Soviet affairs.

President Eisenhower, one of Bohlen's boosters, may take the personal diplomat along on the President's trip to the U.S.S.R. this fall.

Bohlen has spent nearly one-third of his long diplomatic career in the U.S.S.R. He first joined the Moscow Embassy staff in 1934, shortly after this country recognized the Communist regime.

Sheriff Heads for Arizona To Return Alleged Robber

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff will leave in the near future for Flagstaff, Ariz., to pick up a man charged with participating in armed robbery here.

Thomas M. Cartwright, 34, formerly of Washington C. H., is awaiting transportation back to the County Jail to stand trial for participating in the stickup of Mom and Pop's place, Route 2, Williamsport, on Sept. 5, 1958.

Cartwright was apprehended in flagstaff by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution of the armed robbery committed here.

The prisoner, with a long record of arrests, refused to waive extradition and the necessary legal steps have been taken for his return.

SHERIFF RADCLIFF is awaiting the momentary arrival of papers to start his Arizona trip. Fayette County Sheriff Orland (Tubby) Hayes will accompany Radcliff on his mission.

TRAINING session for county captains and solicitors are planned for 8 p. m., next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the Circleville Postoffice. Materials for solicitors will be handed out at all sessions.

Meanwhile, the fund headquarters in the lobby of the American Hotel is open. It is manned from 1-5 p. m. each day. All questions regarding the fund can be answered at the headquarters. Telephone number for the fund is GR 4-3012.

Business and professional solicitations are under way this week. Industrial solicitations, which began a week ago, are virtually completed. However, reports on how the industrial donations are going will not be available for some time, possibly next week.

Speech Making Hungarian Is Badly Beaten

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Hungarian who helped hijack a plane to escape to the free world and who spoke against Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit here was found beaten and unconscious early today.

Ferenc Iszak, 31, president of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters of San Francisco, would say only, "I don't remember anything," after police found him in Golden Gate Park.

He was reported in fair condition with multiple head, rib and other injuries.

His wife, Enese, 26, had called police when Iszak went out after a mysterious telephone call and failed to return.

Inspectors Charles Naughton and Lloyd Kelly said the missing Hungarian patriot was found crumpled in front of his parked auto just inside an entrance to the park. The keys were in the car and its lights were on.

Iszak, a chemical engineer, made international headlines when he fled from behind the Iron Curtain in 1956.

His speech against the Khrushchev visit was last Saturday in San Francisco's Union Square.

Cartwright was indicted by the September 1958 Pickaway County Grand Jury for armed robbery but had left for parts unknown immediately after the robbery.

Boggs and Hurles were arrested the same day the robbery took place by Washington C. H. Police. Cartwright will stand trial here for armed robbery.

Fayette County has a warrant for his arrest for skipping bond. The FBI apprehended Cartwright through fingerprints.

ATLANTA (AP)—The manager of a state workshop for the blind has been fired for putting salt in blind employees' water, dropping objects behind them and snapping shears near their ears, officials say.

Tight Money Now Listed as 'Fact of Life'

It's No Longer Debatable whether Dollar Grows Dear

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Tight money is moving off the debating platform. It's getting to be an everyday fact of life.

If you want to buy a new home, you know about it. If you're looking for a new car on time payments, you're likely to find carrying charges a bit higher. If you want an installment loan from your bank to buy a new appliance or redecorate your house, it costs more—and your credit standing is examined more closely.

If you're a businessman needing a bank loan to carry inventories for the Christmas trade, you'll run into higher interest charges—and maybe find the banker more choosy about to whom he lends, as he has only so much money to parcel out.

Banks and other lenders say too many persons—including Uncle Sam—are wanting to borrow more money just now. Americans aren't saving as much of their incomes as before. So the lenders don't have enough funds to meet the increased demand. Thus money is tight and interest rates rising.

About the only things now going for less than 5 per cent interest are the shortest-term Treasury securities. And they are commanding about 4 per cent, higher than any time since the bank holiday in 1933.

Tightening of money comes at this time of the year because banks are called upon to finance movement of crops from farms and through processing plants, and because manufacturers borrow to produce fall and winter goods, and merchants borrow to buy and carry these goods until the Christmas trade—they hope—empties their shelves again.

The Federal Reserve Board has eased up on credit just enough to give banks lendable funds for what it considers necessary for these legitimate seasonal needs, but no more, holding that more than that would only set off a speculative boom, breeding place for higher prices.

The board's fear of another round of inflation is based on several things: The general belief that the end of the steel strike will see a quick spurt in business activity; continuing wage hikes in other industries than steel; steadily rising installment debt; slow but steady increases in consumer prices; and the increased demand for bank loans.

After Christmas, the demand for funds usually drops, both from business and from individuals busy paying off incurred debts. This could ease the credit squeeze automatically—unless a big boom is under way.

Many in the stock market seem to feel that the board is going to win its fight—that tight money will head off another inflationary spurt. At least, that's one reason given for the break in stock prices after they were built up as a hedge against the inflation formerly widely expected.

'60 Political Drive Due To Be Heated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) injected international policy into the battle Tuesday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a Senate-House committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) said "so-called economists" are letting America fall behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republican minority" in Congress and "the outrage of the American people" had killed Democratic spending programs.

Johnson and Humphrey called for a positive program in the cold war battle with communism. They made it clear they do not think the Eisenhower administration is providing such a program.

Johnson's remarks were in a

GOP Leader Proud of His Party's Spirit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"As minority leader in the House of Representatives, I am particularly proud of the record made by my outnumbered—but never out-fought—Republican colleagues," Rep. Charles V. Halleck (R-Ind) said Tuesday night.

Halleck praised Congress' Republican members for sticking together despite the almost two-to-one preponderance of Democrats. He was addressing a $100-a-plate fund-raising banquet for central Ohio Republicans.

However, after citing Republican accomplishments, he said his party "just hasn't done a selling job" to the public.

Earlier, at a press conference, Halleck said that Vice President Nixon is out in front for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination. He added that he believes Adlai E. Stevenson will emerge again as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Water Line Broken Here

Traffic on W. Main St. struck a bottleneck yesterday due to a broken water line.

Police said the pipe was broken by a local excavating firm which was working on a sewer line in front of the Green Lantern Cafe.

Crewmen worked to repair the line most of last night and still were going strong today. Traffic was limited to the one lane near the scene.

Local patrolmen were on hand to direct the heavy flow of vehicles from Route 22. Officers said most of the repairs should be completed by today.

Stock Mart Rally Paced By Motors

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors paced a vigorous stock market rally early this afternoon.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to more than a point while some electronics and other wide movers picked up 3 to 4 points. Brokers regarded the rise as chiefly a technical bounce based on the fact that the market has fallen on each of the past four sessions and had a monotonous series of declines before then.

Investment fund buying, noticeable in late Tuesday's rallying tendency, was more apparent today, analysts reported. The market had, apparently, reached a "buy point" for some of its customers.

American Motors rose more than a point and touched another new high. Ford added about 2. Chrysler more than a point and General Motors a point.

Steels, chemicals, rails, oils, aircrafts, nonferrous metals and drugs also advanced. Tobaccos were mixed.

Youngstown Sheet gained more than 2. Advances exceeding a point were made by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem was fractionally higher.

Gains of about 2 were scored by Allied Chemical and Union Carbide while Du Pont added 3.

Rails came up from their lows of the year as Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio rose more than a point apiece. Illinois Central was about a point higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.40 to $215.40 with the industrials up $2.60, the rails up 90 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Government bonds were steady.

Local Drum and Bugle Corps Slates Reorganization Move

The Hall-Adkins Post 134 American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, under the direction of Commander J. W. Price and Drum Major Clarence R. McAbee, has announced the renewal and reorganization of the unit this year.

Price and McAbee said the unit will accept engagements anywhere within a 75 mile radius of Circleville. Rehearsal is at Memorial Hall each Thursday at 8:30 p. m.

Several men who were members of the 1958 corps have returned along with many new recruits to guarantee a bigger and better Corps this year.

While attending a rehearsal last week, it was indicated by Commander Price that the Corps has shown earnestness and profound determination to produce a qualifying unit. He also stated there will be no vacation this winter, noting that the drum and buglemen will continue in force throughout the entire year.

"WE HOPE to have a marching force of at least 30 men within the next few weeks," Price said.

At present there are vacancies for base drum, cymbals and key positions in the color guard under the direction of McAbee.

Price said the Corps is pursuing many new musical arrangements and concentrating attention on alignment of marching maneuvers.

McAbee will be at Memorial Hall each Thursday evening to talk with anyone interested in joining the color guard. Clifford

ATLANTA (AP)—The manager of a state workshop for the blind has been fired for putting salt in blind employees' water, dropping objects behind them and snapping shears near their ears, official says.

Hugh Terrell said he dropped metal drums and cold drink boxes to keep the blind persons alert when they looked as if they might be asleep, investigators reported Tuesday.

Tight Money Now Listed as 'Fact of Life'

It's No Longer Debatable whether Dollar Grows Dear

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Tight money is moving off the debating platform. It's getting to be an everyday fact of life.

If you want to buy a new home, you know about it. If you're looking for a new car on time payments, you're likely to find carrying charges a bit higher. If you want an installment loan from your bank to buy a new appliance or redecorate your house, it costs more—and your credit standing is examined more closely.

If you're a businessman needing a bank loan to carry inventories for the Christmas trade, you'll run into higher interest charges—and maybe find the banker more choosy about to whom he lends, as he has only so much money to parcel out.

Banks and other lenders say too many persons—including Uncle Sam—are wanting to borrow more money just now. Americans aren't saving as much of their incomes as before. So the lenders don't have enough funds to meet the increased demand. Thus money is tight and interest rates rising.

About the only things now going for less than 5 per cent interest are the shortest-term Treasury securities. And they are commanding about 4 per cent, higher than any time since the bank holiday in 1933.

Tightening of money comes at this time of the year because banks are called upon to finance movement of crops from farms and through processing plants, and because manufacturers borrow to produce fall and winter goods, and merchants borrow to buy and carry these goods until the Christmas trade—they hope—empties their shelves again.

The Federal Reserve Board has eased up on credit just enough to give banks lendable funds for what it considers necessary for these legitimate seasonal needs, but no more, holding that more than that would only set off a speculative boom, breeding place for higher prices.

The board's fear of another round of inflation is based on several things: The general belief that the end of the steel strike will see a quick spurt in business activity; continuing wage hikes in other industries than steel; steadily rising installment debt; slow but steady increases in consumer prices; and the increased demand for bank loans.

After Christmas, the demand for funds usually drops, but from business and from individuals busy paying off incurred debts. This could ease the credit squeeze automatically—unless a big boom is under way.

Many in the stock market seem to feel that the board is going to win its fight—that tight money will head off another inflationary spurt. At least, that's one reason given for the break in stock prices after they were built up as a hedge against the inflation formerly widely expected.

'60 Political Drive Due To Be Heated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) injected international policy into the battle Tuesday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a Senate-House committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) said "so-called economists" are letting America fall far behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republican minority" in Congress and "the outrage of the American people" had killed Democratic spending programs.

Johnson and Humphrey called for a positive program in the cold war battle with communism. They made it clear they do not think the Eisenhower administration is providing such a program.

Johnson's remarks were in a

GOP Leader Proud of His Party's Spirit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "As minority leader in the House of Representatives, I am particularly proud of the record made by my outnumbered—but never out-fought—Republican colleagues," Rep. Charles V. Halleck (R-Ind) said Tuesday night.

Halleck praised Congress' Republican members for sticking together despite the almost two-to-one preponderance of Democrats. He was addressing a $100-a-plate fund-raising banquet for central Ohio Republicans.

However, after citing Republican accomplishments, he said his party "just hasn't done a selling job" to the public.

Earlier, at a press conference, Halleck said that Vice President Nixon is out in front for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination. He added that he believes Adlai E. Stevenson will emerge again as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Water Line Broken Here

Traffic on W. Main St. struck a bottleneck yesterday due to a broken water line.

Police said the pipe was broken by a local excavating firm which was working on a sewer line in front of the Green Lantern Cafe.

Crewmen worked to repair the line most of last night and still were going strong today. Traffic was limited to the one lane near the scene.

Local patrolmen were on hand to direct the heavy flow of vehicles from Route 2. Officers said most of the repairs should be completed by today.

speech prepared for a Galveston, Tex., audience. But in addressing the group he chose instead to talk of the U.S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He said Khrushchev is an "able and deceitful" leader who is "after us," but added: "Some good will come out of this visit of Mr. Khrushchev. It will help us keep our feet on the ground."

Humphrey told a Nassau County, N.Y., Democratic county convention his party can win in 1960 if it identifies itself with peace, economic progress and civil rights.

Stock Mart Rally Paced By Motors

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors paced a vigorous stock market rally early this afternoon.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to more than a point while some electronics and other wide movers picked up 3 to 4 points.

Brokers regarded the rise as chiefly a technical bounce based on the fact that the market has fallen on each of the past four sessions and had a monotonous series of declines before then.

Investment fund buying, noticeable in late Tuesday's rallying tendency, was more apparent today, analysts reported. The market had, apparently, reached a "buy point" for some of its customers.

American Motors rose more than a point and touched another new high. Ford added about 2, Chrysler more than a point and General Motors a point.

Steels, chemicals, rails, oils, aircrafts, nonferrous metals and drugs also advanced. Tobaccos were mixed.

Youngstown Sheet gained more than 2. Advances exceeding a point were made by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem was fractionally higher.

Gains of about 2 were scored by Allied Chemical and Union Carbide while Du Pont added 3.

Rails came up from their lows of the year as Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio rose more than a point apiece. Illinois Central was about a point higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.40 to $215.40 with the industrials up $2.60, the rails up 90 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Government bonds were steady.

The Hall-Adkins Post 134 American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, under the direction of Commander J. W. Price and Drum Major Clarence R. McAbee, has announced the renewal and reorganization of the unit this year.

Price and McAbee said the unit will accept engagements anywhere within a 75 mile radius of Circleville. Rehearsal is at Memorial Hall each Thursday at 8:30 p. m.

Jack's says, "Good Luck!"

Is it possible that nations have now reached the point of no return in their race to effect an uneasy peace by the method of producing the biggest stick? Can it be that with the development of operational intercontinental ballistic missiles, each of the world powers has reached a level in the armaments race from which it can destroy the other with weapons launched at distances ranging to 6,000 miles from the target, but against which it has no defenses of its own?

Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, chief of the U. S. Air Force Defense command, told an audience of his service colleagues from the Air Force Association that this is exactly the status today. Both the United States and the Soviet Union are rushing through a crash program of ICBM development — the Russians may already have a small stockpile of the weapons — but each is completely vulnerable to a retaliatory attack. And perfection of an anti-ICBM missile is not even in sight.

In time it can be expected that both sides will have effective means of detecting and destroying these missiles capable of annihilating large areas of land mass with a single blow, but by that time — probably several years hence — there will undoubtedly be even more deadly weapons to contend with.

The point is, development of offensive weapons has greatly outdistanced defensive mechanisms, with the result that the world is more vulnerable than ever to wholesale destruction.

This is not a pleasant circumstance for free peoples to contemplate, and it is not greatly alleviated by the assurances of the U. S. Air Defense chief that everything possible is being done to create effective defense barriers. Until there is a cooling of world tensions, and probably for many years thereafter, survival demands a strong retaliation capability. It is of little consequence that a nation be able to ward off an attacker's blows if it has no effective counter - punch of its own. Development of superior firepower and weak defenses is a natural result of military crash programs, and the present lack of defense ability is not unique in world history.

Never before, however, have so few weapons been capable of such vast destruction and there is stark realization that even a 90 per cent effective defense system, still years from attainment, will not be adequate to enable any nation to survive sustained attack.

Courtin' Main

Some men spend every penny they earn on the house. They buy a round for everybody.

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you lose up to 40 pounds in 90 days without using drugs?

Can you do it without feeling starved, without losing your strength or sense of humor, without feeling sorry for yourself?

You can indeed. You're listening to an ex-fatty who just did it.

All you need is the right incentive. A fat man with the right incentive can do anything. I had a real good incentive.

The truth was I weighed a record 217 pounds.

One of my bosses remarked scornfully:

"Fat men have no willpower. Fifty bucks says you can't take off 30 pounds in 90 days."

That did it! I had my incentive, an incentive greater than personal vanity.

"You've got a bet," I told the boss.

There is no secret about losing weight. I went to a good old-fashioned doctor.

Handing me a standard diet, he said: "Follow this. Exercise sensibly. Take a couple of vitamin pills a day. Cut your liquor intake to two highballs a day, but don't take any medicines. You don't need them."

"Well, Doc," I said, "two drinks a day is taking medicine—for it sure ain't drinking."

So I went on the wagon altogether, and within three days was enjoying the taste of water—straight.

The diet was simplicity itself. I cut out all sweet desserts. I ate all but cut out butter, corn, beans—except string beans—and I had potatoes just once a week. I limited myself to a piece of rye or whole wheat bread a day. If I ate a sandwich for lunch, the next day I did without bread.

I cut my usual portions in half, and concentrated on lean meat, eggs, cottage cheese and filled up on plenty of raw and cooked green and yellow vegetables.

Mild exercise is the best way to cure your restlessness when you're on a diet—or any other time. I bowled and swam some, but walking is the ideal exercise in the city.

The first week I walked a mile a day, then gradually stepped it up. On weekends I got up to seven or eight miles. Solitary walking can be a great joy. You learn the trees, the store window sights and the people in your town as you can in no other way. One tip: In the city be sure to wear rubber-heeled shoes.

Strangely, I felt exhilarated rather than depressed most of the time. Only once did I break my diet to eat a chocolate sundae. I felt as guilty as if I'd robbed the church poor box, and never was tempted again.

The pounds came off in fits and spurts—six the first week, none the next, some weeks 2 to 5. On the 90th day I had a surgeon friend ready to amputate a leg if necessary—anything to keep from losing to the boss!

But the scales said 177 pounds. I had taken off not 30 pounds, but about 40. The boss forked over a $50 bill.

There's one other reward. They told me that if I slimmed down I'd have the girls in the office standing in line. I do, too. But all they whisper in my ears is: "What's your secret, skinny? I'd like to lose a little myself."

The incentive is the secret. Bet the boss!

No Place for Two-Nation World

By George Sokolsky

At Yalta, Stalin made it clear that just as he had formed an alliance with Hitler to divide the world between them, so he was ready for a two-nation control of the world; that is, by Soviet Russia and the United States.

It was because of this attitude on the part of Stalin that Chiang Kai-shek and General de Gaulle were omitted from the Summit Conference at Yalta, where Stalin and Roosevelt did business behind the back of Winston Churchill, and, as the record shows, at times, privately ridiculed him.

Khrushchev also thinks in terms of a two-nation world. After all, if the two major powers decided to dominate the world, what could the small countries do? Could they unite to fight a combination of Soviet Russia and the United States?

In fact, as one thinks about the two-nation world concept, it is reminiscent of the division of the United States into locality syndicates, governed out of Chicago by Al Capone. It is the concept of "unite and divide" instead of "divide and conquer."

Nikita Khrushchev, in reply to one of the questions asked of him at the National Press Club in Washington, listed a few of the nationalities in the Soviet Union and said that if he would list them all, it would consume much time.

In a word, Soviet Russia had solved the nationality problem for a good part of Europe and Asia by rejecting its existence as a fact. But that cannot be done as regards Nationalist or Red China; it cannot be done as regards India; it cannot be done as regards Great Britain or any Western European country.

Khrushchev's two-nation concept, while it might lessen the present tensions, would create new and greater tensions and

Tips on Sprains, Bruises

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Sprains, strains and bruises are three types of injuries that probably comprise most of the medical troubles confronting the average homemaker.

We've already discussed sprains. So let's take up strains and bruises today.

Strain generally is caused by lifting a heavy object while in an improper position.

A strain may merely be an overstretching of some of the fibers of a muscle or tendon, or it may be a tearing of these fibers.

In either case, the result will be pain. You will feel a definite stiffness in your movements and the pain is apt to increase during the first few hours following the injury.

In the case of a severe strain you had better call your doctor. Many minor ones, though, can be successfully treated at home by a few simple procedures.

First, it is extremely important to rest the injured muscle.

Applying heat with a hot water bag, heating pad, or even hot towels will help bring relief. Gentle rubbing of the affected area probably will help by stimulating circulation.

Remember always to rub upward on the affected area. This helps return the blood flowing through the veins to the heart.

Since massage helps loosen the muscles, a little gentle massaging might be of some value.

As for bruises, they usually are caused by a blow which breaks the small blood vessels of the tissues immediately under the skin.

Blood from these broken vessels oozes into the tissues, thus causing discoloration and swelling. A black eye is a good example of this.

Quick action in many cases will prevent both swelling and discoloration. Applying ice or very cold cloths may prevent both and ease the pain as well.

But, a bruise, as you well know, isn't really a serious problem, particularly if—as usually is the case—the skin is not broken.

Peddler of Smut Loses on Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joseph L. Marshall, major Cincinnati magazine distributor, has lost an appeal from a Municipal Court conviction of possessing indecent literature.

Common Pleas Judge Louis J. Schneider upheld the jury conviction Monday. Marshall, convicted last Dec. 3, was given a suspended sentence of three months in the workhouse and a $400 fine.

In his appeal, Marshall contended the city law does not square with state law. The state law makes it a felony to knowingly possess smutty literature. The city ordinance leaves out the word knowingly.

He told labor leaders they were management stooges; he questioned whether the mayor of Los Angeles could read; and when a frankfurter man happily told him hot dogs need "good meat," Khrushchev hit him with: "Any fool knows that."

At Yalta, Stalin made it clear that just as he had formed an alliance with Hitler to divide the world between them, so he was ready for a two-nation control of the world; that is, by Soviet Russia and the United States.

It was because of this attitude on the part of Stalin that Chiang Kai-shek and General de Gaulle were omitted from the Summit Conference at Yalta, where Stalin and Roosevelt did business behind the back of Winston Churchill, and, as the record shows, at times, privately ridiculed him.

Khrushchev also thinks in terms of a two-nation world. After all, if the two major powers decided to dominate the world, what could the small countries do? Could they unite to fight a combination of Soviet Russia and the United States?

In fact, as one thinks about the two-nation world concept, it is reminiscent of the division of the United States into local syndicates, governed out of Chicago by Al Capone. It is the concept of "unite and divide" instead of "divide and conquer."

Nikita Khrushchev, in reply to one of the questions asked of him at the National Press Club in Washington, listed a few of the nationalities in the Soviet Union and said that if he would list them all, it would consume much time.

In a word, Soviet Russia had solved the nationality problem for a good part of Europe and Asia by rejecting its existence as a fact. But that cannot be done as regards Nationalist or Red China; it cannot be done as regards Great Britain or any Western European country.

Khrushchev's two-nation concept, while it might lessen the present tensions, would create new and greater tensions and could set the entire world in explosion. Instead of One Worldism, instead of a two-nation world, nationalism is on the march accompanied by a fragmentation of empires into smaller, nationalistic states.

Khrushchev exhibited a fear of this trend in his reference to Hungary at the National Press Club luncheon. He was asked a question about Hungary. He did not answer the question.

He said that if he wanted to be unpleasant, he could ask similar questions about the United States, but he had no intention of being unpleasant. He meandered all over the map but he did not answer the question about Soviet Russia's interference in the internal affairs of Hungary.

He did not answer it because in the Soviet theory of world organization such an entity as Hungary does not exist. What exists are the countries that are building Socialism and Communism, and the countries that choose to remain capitalist. The names of countries are geographical and have no realistic meaning from his standpoint.

Thus, Russia itself has become a provincial term; the vast state over which Khrushchev presides is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It would be as though France disappeared into a complex of NATO states and became a province of such an area.

Nevertheless, this is the current Russian point of view. For, if the entire world became Communist, according to Marxist-Leninist theory, nations, races, religions and even governments would wither away.

How deeply this is ingrained in Khrushchev's mentality became obvious from a curious change of pace during the National Press Club luncheon. Khrushchev delivered his address and answered questions in large chunks which his interpreter, Oleg Troyanovsky, handled very well.

But when, at the very end, Khrushchev lectured his audience on Marxist-Leninist theory on the rise and fall of various economic and social systems, Troyanovsky translated sentence by sentence. Sometimes Khrushchev even stopped for him to translate a phrase or a word. Here was a party apparatnik lecturing on fundamentals, every word of which was weighed, because even he, Khrushchev, dared not, in a loose moment, utter an unorthodox phrase.

The United States will not and cannot ever accept the two-nation concept. In the first place, it cannot be American policy to dominate the world. Our people will never tolerate such a policy.

Secondly, we have too much respect for other nations to disregard their opinions, desires or needs. An understanding with Soviet Russia to lessen the tensions of the Cold War cannot in any way lessen our association with the nations who have been our allies and friends.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are three Nikita Khrushchevs. Two are actors and the third is a publicity man with such good timing and change of pace he makes the Madison avenue boys look as lively as Spanish-American War veterans.

There is Khrushchev, the Soviet Premier, with his eye on the main chance. There is Khrushchev, the top economist, playing on the American stage to one audience in the West and to another in the rest of the world.

And there is Khrushchev the publicity man, working to advertise the other two. Although his every movement and word would get headlines anyway, he has managed to do at least one thing every day to get added attention.

As leader of the Soviet Union, which represents itself as the friend of all people, he talks peace, peace, peace and trade, trade, trade, although saying it doesn't matter whether the United States wants to trade with the U.S.S.R.

But if he can make any yardage here—if he can get any concessions—he will consider his trip a big success.

The irony of all his talk of peace is that out of a cloudless sky months ago he created crisis by threatening to shut off West Berlin unless the West gets its troops out of there. He hasn't budged an inch. Because he hasn't, he has been invited here to talk things over.

As he moves around, talking peace, he holds over the West the same threat of a shut-off Berlin. He wants concessions. There is no sign he came to make any. So he got this trip and world attention at a cost of nothing more than a threat.

Then there is Khrushchev, the Communist actor. He gave a possible insight into his conduct here when he spoke of this country in a heated moment Sunday night while talking to labor leaders: "You have been spoiled by everyone bowing down, by everyone cringing and crawling."

He apparently set out to do just the opposite. He brags of Soviet progress, has very little flattering to say about American achievement, and even gets personally insulting, although so far he has picked targets who can't hurt him.

He told labor leaders they were management stooges; he questioned whether the mayor of Los Angeles could read; and when a frankfurter man happily told him hot dogs need "good meat," Khrushchev hit him with: "Any fool knows that."

This performance—by the master of communism riding roughshod through the citadel of capitalism—cannot help but be impressive to the Communist, neutral and backward peoples of the world.

It was like hearing him tell them: "I got those big shots told off, didn't I?"

But this same performance has had a different effect in the Western world which has watched with astonishment his unpredictability, his mercurial temper, his impetuosity, his belligerency, his too obvious attempts to appear contemptuous and superior.

Since this man holds the key to peace, and presumably to war, the West cannot avoid misgivings and worry about dealing with him.

But while the West may consider much of his performance an act, it can't be sure all of it is. Some of it may be real and an indication of emotional instability.

That gives him an advantage in dealing with President Eisenhower and the rest of the Western leaders, since they may lean over backwards in trying to avoid angering him unnecessarily.

It is hard to believe he is emotionally unstable for the simple reason he had to show extraordinary self-discipline in clawing his way up in the Communist party. It is unlikely his fellow Communists in the Kremlin would have chosen as leader a man who might bring them all down in ruin in an impulsive moment.

But day after day publicity man Khrushchev has built up this picture of the other two Khrushchevs by doing something to get even more than the expected attention.

The first day it wasn't much. He refused to conform to Western custom, and went to a formal White House dinner in a business suit; the next day he displayed the volatile Khrushchev by anger at a National Press Club luncheon.

The third day he broke out of the routine and prosaic round of luncheons and dinners by getting angry with businessmen. The fourth day he made headlines around the world with his proposal for complete disarmament.

Next day he blew up a storm at a Los Angeles dinner. Sunday he switched roles and patted children on the head. That night he switched again, stormed at labor leaders who tried to bait him; Monday he did the unexpected by marching into the Longshoremen's headquarters in San Francisco and having a pleasant day without a flareup; and Tuesday he bounded into Des Moines, now the pleasant, homey Khrushchev, except for insulting the hot dog man.

Japanese women first voted in 1946.

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's visit to Hollywood has come and gone, but the memory will linger a long, long time.
Never have so many stars appeared for a single event. "Curiosity," was Glenn Ford's explanation for the turnout.
The film famous were curious to see the No. 1 Communist in action, and they saw plenty of action. This was due to the needling of host Spyros Skouras, whose extolling of capitalism prompted Khrushchev to heated reply. Said David Niven of K's speech: "He had some of the greatest feed lines in history."

Khrushchev often interrupted Skouras's speech with pointed comments, and this seemed a delightful custom. Political speeches can be enlivened by such give and take.

Skouras also interrupted the Soviet leader but it wasn't the same. The film stars finally shouted "sit down" to Skouras. They wanted the star to have the full stage.
Khrushchev held it for 45 minutes. Thus he committed the unpardonable sin to show business: staying on too long. "He should have quit when he was ahead," observed Frank Sinatra.

I doubt if any of his Hollywood listeners were swayed by Khrushchev's arguments. But he definitely touched a nerve. This came when he was praising Soviet achievements in the arts. "Which country has the best ballet?" he demanded.

Fred Astaire, Gene Kelly and others have pointed out that we have just as good dancers as the Soviets, but no place for them to train to perfection.
Khrushchev pointed out that America has no permanent ballet or opera theater—"your theaters must thrive on what rich people give them."

The Soviet chief went on to say that intellectuals are esteemed in his country.

Commented one producer-director: "How can we compete for the minds of men when 'intellectual' is considered a dirty word among large segments of this country?"

In praising Soviet intellectual achievements, Khrushchev cited Mikhail Sholokov, author of "Quiet Flows the Don" and other novels, who is traveling with him. This prompted one star to inquire: "So is President Eisenhower taking along Carl Sandburg or Robert Frost or Ernest Hemingway when he goes to Russia?"

Boy, 12, Sentenced In Rape Conviction

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — State officials said today a 12-year-old Negro boy, sentenced to 35 years on a rape charge, must serve at least 18 years and seven months before he is eligible for parole.

Joseph Westmoreland pleaded guilty Monday to raping a 7-year-old white girl here last June at knife-point.

Criminal Court Judge Homer B. Weimar said he would order the boy to the State Penitentiary today, with a transfer to the State Training School for Boys at Pikeville until he reaches 18. He would be transferred then to the penitentiary.

The 35-year sentence was one of the heaviest passed on a juvenile here in many years.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

No Harm in Advertising

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for eleven years. I am in my late fifties, but look younger. My husband left me a little store which keeps me tied down all day. I am too busy during the day waiting on customers to be alone. But at night I get the blues. I have prayed and cried. I would like to meet a good man and get married. I hate to think of living alone until I die. I have no family. Please advise me.

DEAR LONELY: Marriages are not made in heaven—they are made in your store, in church or where lonely people gather. Let your friends and customers know that you would consider marriage to the right man. False pride can be your worst enemy.

DEAR ABBY: I recently returned from a 6-week stay at the hospital. I am 80 years old and so is my wife. One of our neighbors heard of my return so she called my wife and offered to send over some turkey bones that were left over from a turkey feast. She said my wife could make some broth out of it.

My wife politely refused because she thought some of the guests might have chewed on them.

Isn't it customary to send convalescents only food that is ready to eat. Or am I mistaken? This neighbor was better able to make the broth, than either of us. I thought my wife did right. What do you think?

STILL LEARNING
DEAR STILL: Your wife was justified in politely refusing. Even though your neighbor's intentions might have been good, her judgment was poor. Don't look for any more bones to pick with her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and try to do the right thing. My retired Grandpa, who lives with us, is always asking me to play cards with him. Just him and me. When I play with him I always beat him. He gets very mad and hollers at me. I decided that I will not play with him any more, then my mother says, "Play Grandpa a game or two as he has nothing else to do." So

I do. But the same thing happens again. I win and he gets mad.

My father says for me to let Grandpa win once in a while. I refuse to do this because it is cheating. Am I wrong or Not?

REFUSE TO CHEAT

DEAR REFUSE: Cheating to win is morally wrong. Playing to let the other fellow win is morally acceptable when the other fellow is a retired Grandpa who loves to play and hates to lose.

DEAR ABBY: May the Lord have mercy on that poor misguided soul who drives sixty miles everyday to "find God." Doesn't she know that the kingdom of God is within all of us?

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

No Harm in Advertising

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for eleven years. I am in my late fifties, but look younger. My husband left me a little store which keeps me tied down all day. I am too busy during the day waiting on customers to be alone. But at night I get the blues. I have prayed and cried. I would like to meet a good man and get married. I hate to think of living alone until I die. I have no family. Please advise me.

DEAR LONELY: Marriages are not made in heaven—they are made in your store, in church or where lonely people gather. Let your friends and customers know that you would consider marriage to the right man. False pride can be your worst enemy.

DEAR ABBY: I recently returned from a 6-week stay at the hospital. I am 80 years old and so is my wife. One of our neighbors heard of my return so she called my wife and offered to send over some turkey bones that were left over from a turkey feast. She said my wife could make some broth out of it.

My wife politely refused because she thought some of the guests might have chewed on them.

Isn't it customary to send convalescents only food that is ready to eat. Or am I mistaken? This neighbor was better able to make the broth, than either of us. I thought my wife did right. What do you think?

STILL LEARNING DEAR STILL: Your wife was justified in politely refusing. Even though your neighbor's intentions might have been good, her judgment was poor. Don't look for any more bones to pick with her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and try to do the right thing. My retired Grandpa, who lives with us, is always asking me to play cards with him. Just him and me. When I play with him I always beat him. He gets very mad and hollers at me. I decided that I will not play with him any more, then my mother says, "Play Grandpa a game or two as he has nothing else to do." So

GARDEN

Edited and Compiled by
Mrs. Elizabeth Jones

The Circleville Herald, Wed. Sept. 23, 1959 7
Circleville Ohio

TOURNAMENT WINNER — This all rose arrangement won third place in the Rose Tournament this year. Mrs. Asa Jennings of Darien, Conn. used Ivory Fashion roses in two containers. The arrangement in the upper container makes a continuous line as the roses in the lower part appear to travel through the glass plate.

Basic Rules for Arranging Roses Require Much Study

Mrs. Vincent Whitsitt, who directed the Sterling Bowl Tournament at Jackson and Perkins rose festival this June has some basic rules for arrangers about the use of roses.

With the Central Ohio Rose Society coming up the last weekend in September, arrangers may be interested in reading what Mrs. Whitsitt has to say about rose arrangements.

According to Mrs. Whitsitt, "Design is paramount".

"The final picture must have a strong linear pattern and its silhouette must be interesting against the background selected. The stem strength of the rose makes it easy to establish the line of the design. Not for the rose arranger is the troublesome persuading of weak-stemmed materials to behave.

STUDY YOUR blooms before cutting and with a plan in mind you will easily find that particular curve needed for interest.

If the roses are from the garden, they should be cut early in the morning.

After they have hardened, snip or strip thorns and foliage which are to be below the water line. This practice makes it easier to move flowers in the process of constructing the composition.

In an arrangement of roses, where no other flowers or foliage are used, select harmonizing colors if more than one variety is to be combined. Choose blooms in several stages of development from bud to fully-opened flowers. An arrangement of one stage is monotonous and unnecessary.

Remember that a good profile is lovely — so place the roses so that there are many views of the blooms — not all facing front.

Once the arrangement seems finished, study it critically for placement of flowers. See that no two are looking in the same direction and at identical heights. This creates a competition for attention; turn one to a different angle or shorten so its position will be its own.

EYE TEST FOR any visible crossing of stems. No good arrangement would be guilty. Check for leaf confusion. Snip out any which are not needed to enhance the silhouette.

See that the roses and container are a related unit in that one or more appear over the neck of the container — particularly in a tall pitcher.

Police for visible mechanics. With a shallow bowl be certain that the needle point holder is concealed. This may easily be accomplished by a few leaves or the tilt of a flower.

County Woman Reports State Fair Ribbons

Arrangers have been inquiring how Mrs. Ed Schleich of Williamsport came out in the Ohio State Fair Flower show competition. The answer is "With flying colors".

Mrs. Schleich won a first on a Japanese arrangement in which she used aspidistra leaves and white chrysanthemums. This arrangement received a rosette as fourth best in the show.

Mrs. Schleich also received honorable mention for an arrangement using fruit and other plant material.

On Monday of the fair she received a first on the arrangement entitled "And Now Hawaii". She had passion vine flowers, rush, and lavender funkia blossoms in a round gray container with a gray parrot as an accessory.

THE SAME DAY she received a third prize in the class, "Into Orbit". She had used two containers of pink glads and juniper to create the crescent design which took the judge's eye.

On Wednesday Mrs. Schleich won a third on her "Gold Rush" in which she used yellow and orange flowers and glad foliage.

The same day she received a fourth place ribbon on "Home Front in the U.S.A." made of pink and white glads.

She also received honorable mention in this show on a line mass arrangement.

On the 12 arrangements she entered Mrs. Schleich won five ribbons, two honorable mentions and a rosette.

Bartley Show Most Popular At Conclave

Perhaps the most popular of all exhibits at the Garden Club of Ohio annual meeting was the exhibit of pressed and mounted specimens by Pickaway County naturalist, Floyd Bartley.

Bartley had more than 200 specimens of Ohio wild flowers on display. He was present to answer questions.

Because Garden Club of Ohio places special emphasis on conservation, many club conservation chairmen were besieging Bartley with questions.

Mrs. Jamie Johnson, National Council president, spent considerable time looking over Bartley's exhibit.

MRS. SCHUBERT Measamer was the Pickaway County Garden Club delegate to the convention.

Others attending from the club were Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Russell Clark, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. John W. Eshelman, Mrs. Luther Bower, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, Mrs. Turney Pontius and Mrs. Shelby Tegardine.

Rose Show, Concert Set for Sept. 27

The farewell concert of the Park of Roses Summer Series is scheduled for 4 p. m. September 27.

The Sweet Adeline Chorus will present the final offering of the season.

On the same date in the big shelter house of Whetstone Park the Central Ohio Rose Society will stage an autumn rose show.

The public is invited to both the show and the concert.

Ohio Cigarette Tax Hike Increases Take

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state collected $5,375,653 in cigarette taxes last month, a 75 per cent increase over the amount collected in August 1958.

The Ohio cigarette tax jumped to five cents per pack on June 8. Total excise tax collections last month (on cigarettes, 3.2 beer, malt beverages, wine and horse race betting) amount to $9,583,721 — an increase of almost 58 per cent over August 1958.

OHIO'S FIRST LADY IN THE GARDEN — Mrs. Michael DiSalle examines spike of delphinium in the garden at the Governor's Mansion. Lady gardeners who have aching backs and calloused palms may well envy Mrs. DiSalle. All the work is done by Ohio Penitentiary gardeners. They do the planning, the planting and are responsible for garden maintenance. Mrs. DiSalle's sole responsibility is to enjoy the well grown flowers. And this, she says, is easy to do because the flowers are very lovely.

American Rose Society To Have Woman Prexy

A woman has been elected president of the American Rose Society.

This shatters a precedent of the 60-year-old organization which hitherto has always elected male presidents.

Rosarians may huff and puff about male superiority but beauty, ability, poise and intelligence has won out in this hobby society composed predominantly of men.

Mrs. Nat Schoen, Vancouver, Wash., was overwhelmingly elected by more than 3000 rosy votes of the 16,500 in the American Rose Society.

THE NEW president, who takes office on Jan. 1, 1960, is known from east to west as a "down to earth" rose grower, author, lecturer and rose friend.

Ability to get the job done is illustrated by the many local rose societies she organized during her years as director of the Pacific Northwest District of the ARS, and in the publication of a District Bulletin, the Northwest Rosarian.

Vice-President for 1960 is Joseph J. Klima of University Heights, O. He is the first Buckeye ever to serve in this office and hails from the center of the vast membership area composing the American Rose Society.

New and reelected Directors-at-Large to the ARS Board include Dr. W. L. Ayers, Lafayette, Ind.; Robert Lawton, Cincinnati, O.; C. H. Lewis, Salem, Va.; and Lester V. Smith, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Reelected to the nominating committee were Mrs. E. L. Lucas of Norman, Okla., and Elliott R. McDonald of Davenport, Iowa.

Ohio To Increase Ag Inspectors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Agriculture Department probably will have to increase its staff to inspect plant, animal and dairy products brought into Ohio via the St. Lawrence Seaway, director Robert H. Terhune said today.

"Many of these products will compete with Ohio goods, and we want to make sure they are correctly labeled and up to our standards," Terhune said.

Any increases probably will be in the division of plant or animal industry, or food and dairies, he added. Staff members will be assigned to inland ports like Toledo and Cleveland.

Victim of Collision Gets Quick Medic Aid

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — William R. Miller, 59, couldn't have got quicker medical attention when his car collided with two others and he suffered a painful neck injury.

In one of the cars was Dr. Robert H. Boyd of Baltimore, Md., who was traveling with his family and a nurse.

Bursa, a center of silk manufacture, was once the capital of Turkey.

Garden Club Decorates At Convention

The Roundtown Garden Club was responsible for the table decorations at the social hour preceding the banquet at the Garden Club of Ohio Inc. Convention held last week at the Deshler Hilton in Columbus.

Decorations were white and gold grapes encircling the punch bowl.

Members of this club also were responsible for the place cards at the speakers' table at the Litter Bug luncheon.

The president, Mrs. Wesley Edstrom Jr. said that a fuzzy bug, representing a "litter bug" had been placed on each name card.

Attending the convention from the Roundtown Club were Mrs. Edstrom, Mrs. Al Deckard and Mrs. Melvin Struckman.

When Madame Curie, the discoverer of radium, came to the United States in 1929 she was the guest of President Hoover for several days at the White House.

Garden Gossip

You will always find a dedicated group of gardeners when a certain flower society puts on its annual show. And such a group was to be found Sunday at the dahlia show put on by the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society.

The show was held at the Ross County Fairgrounds near Chillicothe and a visitor could not help falling in love with dahlias in general when he held the different colors, varieties and sizes to be found among dahlias. They ranged from dinner plate size to single miniatures less than two inches in diameter.

Mrs. Reginald Blue, Frankfort, copped the best of show rosette with her artistic arrangement. She won two other blue ribbons on her arrangements.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Ashville, whose specialty is dahlias, won four blue ribbons, six second places and five thirds.

Mrs. Edith Koch, Mrs. Hedges' mother, who is a dahlia fancier and member of the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society also won several ribbons, four second places and one third.

LORING HILL, Kingston, president of the society, won two firsts and three seconds.

A doctor's wife from near Portsmouth told us at the Dahlia Show her husband is a real fan. She was obviously a trifle bored with all the enthusiasm displayed by the dahlia-crazy exhibitors. She said her husband and his brothers and sister were just mad about dahlias. She laughingly told that she had given a big bouquet away to some of the church ladies in her town. Just before the woman left with the flowers the doctor arrived home and he was none too pleased with her generosity. "Shoot," she said, "That's what he ought to grow them for, to give away." She added however that he was not a picker. He just likes to grow them. "He goes out each morning to tell them 'hello' and each evening to say 'Goodnight'."

The doctor's wife said that when her husband's family got together they talked of nothing but dahlias. I'm pretty left out, she admitted.

Our advice would be this, "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em'".

The dahlias gave admirable performances as cut flowers. Many of them had been placed in oases in the arrangement division of the show and held up perfectly.

Favorites in the arrangement classes were small cactus dahlias, about three or four inches in diameter.

As usual we were on the lookout for a lavender flower and we found several lavender dahlias. One of the loveliest was "Little Wisteria" a lavender and white about four inches across. Another was "Blue Moon" and still another "Nick's Orchid".

If the gossip column has been a little on the pessimistic side we have these gardens to recommend. Harry Jones, on Route 56 near the Salt Creek school, has an excellent display of flowers quite unharmed by drought. Helen Hoffman's celosia, there's a row of it straight across the garden, could not be more colorful. And in the garden of Miss Margaret Chilcote and her sister there are many bright annuals, the most enchanting of all is a row of blue salvia across the garden.

LYMAN ENGLAND of Logan St. maintains that the squirrels are having it rough this year. Acorns and history nuts are not plentiful in the woods where he is accustomed to hunting.

Mrs. England says that he husband is a rose fancier as well as a squirrel hunter and he's just about "had it" when it comes to rose growing. He lost some plants last winter and this summer his replacements didn't do too well. What's more all that rose dust is quite an item pocketbook-wise.

Mrs. James Scott, Northridge Road, has her usual beautiful display of annuals. The Scotts have no peer when it comes to flower raising. Mrs. Scott's husband has been hospitalized for several months. But apparently Mrs. Scott carried on the good work.

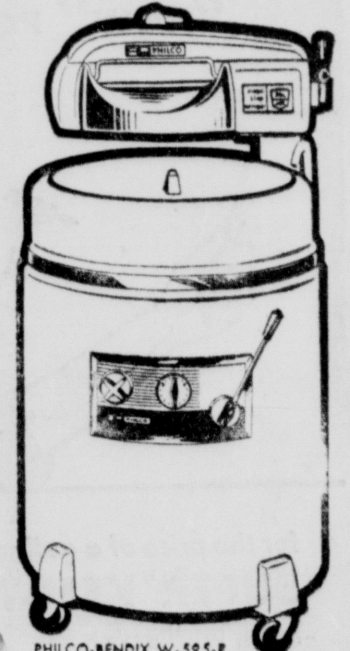

Never again, and I do mean never again, will I ever make an editorial comment on the difference in Garden Clubs of Ohio and Ohio Association of State garden clubs judging. Judges of both organizations have been climbing my frame. Garden Club of Ohio judges insist that they place great emphasis on interpretation. And Ohio Association of Garden Club judges insist that they place great emphasis on perfection of technique. Mrs. James R. Otto, who is instructor in the flower show schools sponsored by National Council, says that it's "interpretation" the emphasis is on. Goodness me! I won't argue with a National Council instructor. In fact, I won't argue with anybody about it. But I'll know better next time.

Mrs. Henry Powell, New Orleans, La., the banquet speaker at the Garden Club of Ohio annual meeting, placed great emphasis on "creating a mood".

Helen and Loring Hoffman have a garden that is aglow with color. The drought, it appears, has not hurt their annuals in the least.

Yes, it was frosty, but nothing was hurt. One observer said that frost was not prone to hurt things too severely in the light of the moon.

Ohio Polio Total Runs below 1958

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time this year, the total number of polio cases in Ohio is running behind the figure for the same period of 1958.

Ten new cases were reported last week, the Health Department said today. That's the lowest total since the last week of July, and a third less than the week before. It compares with 4 in the same week of 1958.

Cased were reported from Montgomery, Ashtabula, Athens, Butler, Darke, Erie, Fairfield, Greene and Mahoning counties, the department said, with the origin of the 10th case not immediately accounted for.

The year's total to date is 172. Last year at this time, Ohio had 182. But department officials said it is too early to draw any conclusions about a possible end to the polio season.

TOURNAMENT WINNER — This all rose arrangement won third place in the Rose Tournament this year. Mrs. Asa Jennings of Darien, Conn. used Ivory Fashion roses in two containers. The arrangement in the upper container makes a continuous line as the roses in the lower part appear to travel through the glass plate.

Basic Rules for Arranging Roses Require Much Study

Mrs. Vincent Whitsitt, who directed the Sterling Bowl Tournament at Jackson and Perkins rose festival this June has some basic rules for arrangers about the use of roses.

With the Central Ohio Rose Society coming up the last weekend in September, arrangers may be interested in reading what Mrs. Whitsitt has to say about rose arrangements.

According to Mrs. Whitsitt, "Design is paramount."

"The final picture must have a strong linear pattern and its silhouette must be interesting against the background selected. The stem strength of the rose makes it easy to establish the line of the design. Not for the rose arranger is the troublesome persuading of weak-stemmed materials to behave.

age are used, select harmonizing colors if more than one variety is to be combined. Choose blooms in several stages of development from bud to fully-opened flowers. An arrangement of one stage is monotonous and unnecessary.

Remember that a good profile is lovely — so place the roses so that there are many views of the blooms — not all facing front.

Once the arrangement seems finished, study it critically for placement of flowers. See that no two are looking in the same direction and at identical heights. This creates a competition for attention; turn one to a different angle or shorten so its position will be its own.

EYE TEST For any visible crossing of stems. No good arranger would be guilty. Check for leaf confusion. Snip out any which are not needed to enhance the silhouette.

See that the roses and container are a related unit in that one or more appear over the neck of the container — particularly in a tall pitcher.

Police for visible mechanics. With a shallow bowl be certain that the needle point holder is concealed. This may easily be accomplished by a few leaves or the tilt of a flower.

County Woman Reports State Fair Ribbons

Arrangers have been inquiring how Mrs. Ed Schleich of Williamsport came out in the Ohio State Fair Flower show competition. The answer is "With flying colors."

Mrs. Schleich won a first on a Japanese arrangement in which she used aspidistra leaves and white chrysanthemums. This arrangement received a rosette as fourth best in the show.

Mrs. Schleich also received honorable mention for an arrangement using fruit and other plant material.

On Monday of the fair she received a first on the arrangement entitled "And Now Hawaii". She had passion vine flowers, rush, and lavender funkia blossoms in a round gray container with a gray parrot as an accessory.

THE SAME DAY she received a third prize in the class, "Into Orbit". She had used two containers of pink glads and juniper to create the crescent design which took the judge's eye.

On Wednesday Mrs. Schleich won a third on her "Gold Rush" in which she used yellow and orange flowers and glad foliage.

The same day she received a fourth place ribbon on "Home Front in the U.S.A." made of pink and white glads.

She also received honorable mention in this show on a line mass arrangement.

On the 12 arrangements she entered Mrs. Schleich won five ribbons, two honorable mentions and a rosette.

Bartley Show Most Popular At Conclave

Perhaps the most popular of all exhibits at the Garden Club of Ohio annual meeting was the exhibit of pressed and mounted specimens by Pickaway County naturalist, Floyd Bartley.

Bartley had more than 200 specimens of Ohio wild flowers on display. He was present to answer questions.

Because Garden Club of Ohio places special emphasis on conservation, many club conservation chairmen were besieging Bartley with questions.

Mrs. Jamie Johnson, National Council president, spent considerable time looking over Bartley's exhibit.

MRS. SCHUBERT Measamer was the Pickaway County Garden Club delegate to the convention.

Others attending from the club were Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Russell Clark, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. John W. Eshelman, Mrs. Luther Bower, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, Mrs. Turney Pontius and Mrs. Shelby Teegardin.

Rose Show, Concert Set for Sept. 27

The farewell concert of the Park of Roses Summer Series is scheduled for 4 p. m. September 27.

The Sweet Adeline Chorus will present the final offering of the season.

On the same date in the big shelter house of Whetstone Park the Central Ohio Rose Society will stage an autumn rose show.

The public is invited to both the show and the concert.

Ohio Cigarette Tax Hike Increases Take

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state collected $5,375,653 in cigarette taxes last month, a 75 per cent increase over the amount collected in August 1958.

The Ohio cigarette tax jumped to five cents per pack on June 8. Total excise tax collections last month (on cigarettes, 3.2 beer, malt beverages, wine and horse race betting) amount to $9,583,721 — an increase of almost 58 per cent over August 1958.

OHIO'S FIRST LADY IN THE GARDEN — Mrs. Michael DiSalle examines spike of delphinium in the garden at the Governor's Mansion. Lady gardeners who have aching backs and calloused palms may well envy Mrs. DiSalle. All the work is done by Ohio Penitentiary gardeners. They do the planning, the planting and are responsible for garden maintenance. Mrs. DiSalle's sole responsibility is to enjoy the well grown flowers. And this, she says, is easy to do because the flowers are very lovely.

American Rose Society To Have Woman Prexy

A woman has been elected president of the American Rose Society.

This shatters a precedent of the 60-year-old organization which hitherto has always elected male presidents.

Rosarians may huff and puff about male superiority but beauty, ability, poise and intelligence have won out in this hobby society composed predominantly of men.

Mrs. Nat Schoen, Vancouver, Wash., was overwhelmingly elected by more than 3000 rosy votes of the 16,500 in the American Rose Society.

THE NEW president, who takes office on Jan. 1, 1960, is known from east to west as a "down to earth" rose grower, author, lecturer and rose friend.

Ability to get the job done is illustrated by the many local rose societies she organized during her years as director of the Pacific Northwest District of the ARS, and in the publication of a District Bulletin, the Northwest Rosarian.

Vice - President for 1960 is Joseph J. Klima of University Heights, O. He is the first Buckeye ever to serve in this office and hails from the center of the vast membership area composing the American Rose Society.

New and reelected Directors-at-Large to the ARS Board include Dr. W. L. Ayers, Lafayette, Ind.; Robert Lawton, Cincinnati, O.; C. H. Lewis, Salem, Va.; and Lester V. Smith, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Reelected to the nominating committee were Mrs. E. L. Lucas of Norman, Okla., and Elliott R. McDonald of Davenport, Iowa.

Ohio To Increase Ag Inspectors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Agriculture Department probably will have to increase its staff to inspect plant, animal and dairy products brought into Ohio via the St. Lawrence Seaway, director Robert H. Terhune said today.

"Many of these products will compete with Ohio goods, and we want to make sure they are correctly labeled and up to our standards," Terhune said.

Any increases probably will be in the division of plant or animal industry, or food and dairies, he added. Staff members will be assigned to inland ports like Toledo and Cleveland.

Victim of Collision Gets Quick Medic Aid

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — William R. Miller, 59, couldn't have got quicker medical attention when his car collided with two others and he suffered a painful neck injury.

In one of the cars was Dr. Robert H. Boyd of Baltimore, Md., who was traveling with his family and a nurse.

Bursa, a center of silk manufacture, was once the capital of Turkey.

Garden Club Decorates At Convention

The Roundtown Garden Club was responsible for the table decorations at the social hour preceding the banquet at the Garden Club of Ohio Inc. Convention held last week at the Deshler Hilton in Columbus.

Decorations were white and gold grapes encircling the punch bowl.

Members of this club also were responsible for the place cards at the speakers' table at the Litter Bug luncheon.

The president, Mrs. Wes Edstrom Jr. said that a fuzzy bug, representing a "litter bug" had been placed on each name card.

Attending the convention from the Roundtown Club were Mrs. Edstrom, Mrs. Al Deckard and Mrs. Melvin Struckman.

When Madame Curie, the discoverer of radium, came to the United States in 1929 she was the guest of President Hoover for several days at the White House.

Garden Gossip

You will always find a dedicated group of gardeners when a certain flower society puts on its annual show. And such a group was to be found Sunday at the dahlia show put on by the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society.

The show was held at the Ross County Fairgrounds near Chillicothe and a visitor could not help falling in love with dahlias in general when he held the different colors, varieties and sizes to be found among dahlias. They ranged from dinner plate size to single miniatures less than two inches in diameter.

Mrs. Reginald Blue, Frankfort, copped the best of show rosette with her artistic arrangement. She won two other blue ribbons on her arrangements.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Ashville, whose specialty is dahlias, won four blue ribbons, six second places and five thirds.

Mrs. Edith Koch, Mrs. Hedges' mother, who is a dahlia fancier and member of the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society also won several ribbons, four second places and one third.

LORING HILL, Kingston, president of the society, won two firsts and three seconds.

A doctor's wife from near Portsmouth told us at the Dahlia Show her husband is a real fan. She was obviously a trifle bored with all the enthusiasm displayed by the dahlia - crazy exhibitors. She said her husband and his brothers and sister were just mad about dahlias. She laughingly told that she had given a big bouquet away to some of the church ladies in her town. Just before the woman left with the flowers the doctor arrived home and he was none too pleased with her generosity. "Shoot", she said, "That's what he ought to grow them for, to give away." She added however that he was not a picker. He just likes to grow them. "He goes out each morning to tell them 'hello' and each evening to say 'Goodnight'."

The doctor's wife said that when her husband's family got together they talked of nothing but dahlias. I'm pretty left out, she admitted.

Our advice would be this, "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em'."

The dahlias gave admirable performances as cut flowers. Many of them had been placed in oasis in the arrangement division of the show and held up perfectly.

Favorites in the arrangement classes were small cactus dahlias, about three or four inches in diameter.

As usual we were on the look-out for a lavender flower and we found several lavender dahlias. One of the loveliest was "Little Wisteria" a lavender and white about four inches across. Another was "Blue Moon" and still another "Nick's Orchid".

If the gossip column has been a little on the pessimistic side we have these gardens to recommend. Harry Jones, on Route 56 near the Salter Creek school, has an excellent display of flowers quite unhurt by drought. Helen Hoffman's celosia, there's a row of it straight across the garden, could not be more colorful. And in the garden of Miss Margaret Chilcote and her sister there are many bright annuals, the most enchanting of all is a row of blue salvia across the garden.

LYMAN ENGLAND of Logan St. maintains that the squirrels are having it rough this year. Acorns and history nuts are not plentiful in the woods where he is accustomed to hunting.

Mrs. England says that he has a squirrel hunter and he's just about "had it" when it comes to rose growing. He lost some plants last winter and this summer his replacements didn't do too well. What's more all that rose dust is quite an item pocketbook-wise.

Mrs. James Scott, Northridge Road, has her usual beautiful display of annuals. The Scotts have no peer when it comes to flower raising. Mrs. Scott's husband has been hospitalized for several months. But apparently Mrs. Scott carried on the good work.

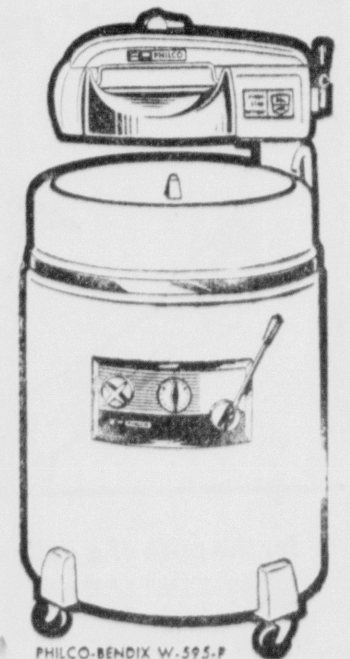

Never again, and I do mean never again, will I ever make an editorial comment on the difference in Garden Clubs of Ohio and Ohio Association of State garden clubs judging. Judges of both organizations have been clinging my frame. Garden Club of Ohio judges insist that they place great emphasis on interpretation. And Ohio Association of Garden Club judges insist that they place great emphasis on perfection of technique. Mrs. James R. Otto, who is instructor in the flower show schools sponsored by National Council, says that it's "interpretation" the emphasis is on. Goodness me! I won't argue with a National Council instructor. In fact, I won't argue with anybody about it. But I'll know better next time.

Mrs. Henry Powell, New Orleans, La. the banquet speaker at the Garden Club of Ohio annual meeting, placed great emphasis on "creating a mood".

Helen and Loring Hoffman have a garden that is aglow with color. The drought, it appears, has not hurt their annuals in the least.

Yes, it was frosty, but nothing was hurt. One observer said that frost was not prone to hurt things too severely in the light of the moon.

Farm Bureau Rally Planned At Piketon for October 6

More than 400 farm women from 14 southern Ohio counties will meet in Piketon October 6 for the Ohio Farm Bureau Women's Rally.

The women, members and friends of county Farm Bureaus, will hear two name speakers, have a chicken barbecue lunch, and award prizes for attendance and membership work. A regional "Safe Farm Bureau Family" will be honored at the rally along with three county Farm Bureaus for their own safety programs.

Highlighting the meeting will be speakers Miss Irene G. Meyers, associated with the General Electric Co. for 35 years, and Mrs. W. A. Smith Jr. of Hillsboro, a member of the Ohio Farm Bureau Board of Trustees for three years.

Miss Meyers of Fort Wayne, Ind., was presented the Charles A. Coffin award in 1950, the highest honor General Electric awards to an employee. Very few women have attained this award which was made in recognition of outstanding contributions she made to company progress at the Fort Wayne works and branch plants. She was elected "Woman of the Year" by the Pilot Club in 1953, and was twice named Fort Wayne's "Citizen of the Week."

Her topic will be "The Joy of Living."

Mrs. Smith, who has spent most of her life on the farm, has been active in Farm Bureau work for many years. In her position as a state trustee, this active farm woman is on the executive, annual meeting, young peoples' and the Farm Bureau women's committees. She just recently returned from Europe and Edinburgh, Scotland where she attended the triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World. Mrs. Smith, as an official delegate, helped plan policy for the worldwide organization of farm women which represents more than 30 nations.

They said Fox and some other bank employees were released by the holdup man after tear gas was fired into the building.

Then police chief Frank Story, using a public address system, ordered the man to come out "or it will be your funeral."

A few minutes later, police went in and found a man dead on the floor, a gun beside him. Whether he was killed or shot himself was not known immediately.

A woman reportedly was with the holdup man when he took Fox from his home. Who she was or what happened to her was not known immediately.

At least two women employees of the bank were caught inside, but they escaped through a broken window.

Kiwanis Kids' Day To Be Held Sunday

Kids' Day, sponsored by Kiwanis International, will be celebrated Sunday here and in hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada and Hawaii using the theme — "Boys and Girls — Our Greatest Resource."

Dr. Richard Samuel, President of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, said that although this is the eleventh annual observance of Kids' Day, it is the fifth year of sponsorship exclusively by Kiwanis International and its member clubs throughout North America.

He further stated that work on this eleventh annual celebration is well under way and it is expected that more clubs than ever before will participate in this annual activity for youth.

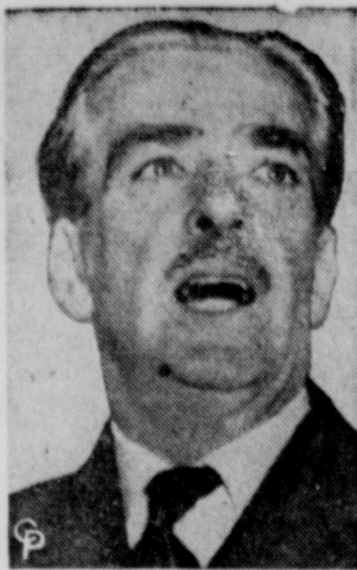

"Preliminary plans for local activity are now being formulated by the committee in charge," Dr. Samuel said. He named Ronald Hidy as Chairman and Robert Steele, Charles Schieber, Robert Huffer, Jack White, E. R. Bennett and Tom K. Eveland as members of the committee under whose direction the activity will be carried out even though all members of the Kiwanis club will share in the project.

DR. SAMUEL pointed out that youth work has been a major aim of Kiwanis International throughout forty-four years of its existence.

The Kids' Day program, one of Kiwanis' major activities for youth, focuses attention on this important work of the organization on one day, and permits each club to develop a local program best suited to its community while integrating it with the club's year-round program for youth.

Last year over a million seven hundred thousand children were entertained on Kids' Day and Kiwanis clubs raised more than $1,250,000.00 for their youth service work.

Dr. Samuel stressed that these funds are retained in the communities where they are collected and used entirely in local youth projects. He pointed out

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A two-day second-degree murder trial here has ended in acquittal for James G. (Doc) Layne, 19, A Scioto County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated Tuesday for 50 minutes. The defendant testified that his brother, David, 21, whom he was accused of shooting last June 13, was drunk and abusive, and that he shot him in self-defense.

the Kiwanis club's Kid Baseball sponsorship, annual Easter Egg Hunt, underprivileged children's work, Christmas Party for the County Children's Home and Columbus Jet Baseball Night to show how Kiwanis uses locally collected funds to benefit the entire community.

Hidy, Chairman of the Kids' Day Committee, indicated that further details will be announced in the near future.

He urged all citizens to wholeheartedly support Kids' Day join with other civic-minded residents of Circleville in observing this day set aside especially for helping youth.

Soviet, U.S. A-Scientists Seek Accord

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Soviet Union's and the United States' top atomic scientists got together here and said they would like to cooperate in developing peaceful uses of atomic energy. The nuclear experts are the Soviet's V. S. Yemelyanov and Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb and associated director of the University of California's Radiation Laboratory.

"We are both doing the same kind of work. If we had closer contacts we would go further," Yemelyanov said Monday.

He was shown through the Stanford Research Institute, which originally was on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's itinerary, but was crowded off his schedule.

Yemelyanov was shown a new duplicating machine that will copy printed materials at speeds as high as 2 million characters a minute.

He and Teller met Sunday

night, along with other top scientists from both nations.

Americans present included Dr. J. C. Geiger, former San Francisco health director, who described the meeting as "a jolly affair."

Most of the Russians spoke beautiful English, they drank a little California wine and the talk was, in turn, serious and amiable," he reported.

Dr. A. Y. Markov, described as Khrushchev's personal physician, proposed a joint Soviet-American medical program to help underprivileged nations. He said such a proposal had been made to the U.S. State Department "and we're still waiting for an answer."

Bonnie Prince, 10, Stuck with Shorts

LONDON (AP) — The Prince of Wales went off to boarding school today, looking self-conscious in his schoolboy shorts.

Large for his age, Queen Elizabeth II's only son Charles will be 11 Nov. 14.

Maybe the shorts were too tight. Anyhow, they caused comment. The prince heard a woman in the nearby crowd of spectators ask: "Isn't he getting too big for those shorts?"

Charles gave her a sheepish look. But standard practice at most British boarding schools is for boys to wear shorts until they are 13 — no matter how big or gawky they get.

Steel Stocks Now Nearing Critical Low

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless the steel strike ends within the next two weeks, the nation faces its worst steel shortage since the end of World War II, Iron Age magazine said today.

The national metal working weekly said that steel stocks will drop to about 11 million tons next week.

"The total," the publication said, "is unbalanced as to location, product and gage. This has resulted in widespread gray market sales, shifting and trading of steel stocks and increased conversion."

Interest in conversion (buying of semi-finished steel from one source to be rolled at another mill) is mounting, the publication said. Buyers were said to believe conversion costs will run as high as 17 to 20 cents a pound.

"Mills have now given up hope," Iron Age said, "of an orderly recovery after the strike."

High Altitude Platform Planned by Astronomer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. J. Allen Hynek, noted astronomer, is working on a method for observing the stars from a platform suspended high above the earth by huge helium-filled balloons.

The Air Force Office of Scientific Research Monday announced in Washington a $50,000 grant to further Dr. Hynek's project.

Dr. Hynek said he has been working on the assignment several months, with associates in the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Cops Rescue Bank Official From Thug

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police threw a cordon around a branch bank today and rescued the manager, who had been held by a holdup team.

Some two hours after Herbert Fox, manager of the Cleveland Trust Co. branch on Cleveland's west side, was taken from his home at gunpoint, police reported he was out of the building and safe.

They said Fox and some other bank employees were released by the holdup man after tear gas was fired into the building.

Then police chief Frank Story, using a public address system, ordered the man to come out "or it will be your funeral."

A few minutes later, police went in and found a man dead on the floor, a gun beside him. Whether he was killed or shot himself was not known immediately.

Soviet, U.S. A-Scientists Seek Accord

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Soviet Union's and the United States' top atomic scientists got together here and said they would like to cooperate in developing peaceful uses of atomic energy. The nuclear experts are the Soviet's V. S. Yemelyanov and Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb and associated director of the University of California's Radiation Laboratory.

"We are both doing the same kind of work. If we had closer contacts we would all go further," Yemelyanov said Monday.

He was shown through the Stanford Research Institute, which originally was on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's itinerary, but was crowded off his schedule.

Yemelyanov was shown a new duplicating machine that will copy printed materials at speeds as high as 2 million characters a minute.

He and Teller met Sunday

night, along with other top scientists from both nations.

Americans present included Dr. J. C. Geiger, former San Francisco health director, who described the meeting as "a jolly affair."

Most of the Russians spoke beautiful English, they drank a little California wine and the talk was, in turn, serious and amiable," he reported.

Dr. A. Y. Markov, described as Khrushchev's personal physician, proposed a joint Soviet-American medical program to help underprivileged nations. He said such a proposal had been made to the U.S. State Department "and we're still waiting for an answer."

Bonnie Prince, 10, Stuck with Shorts

LONDON (AP) — The Prince of Wales went off to boarding school today, looking self-conscious in his schoolboy shorts.

Large for his age, Queen Elizabeth II's only son Charles will be 11 Nov. 14.

Maybe the shorts were too tight. Anyhow, they caused comment. The prince heard a woman in the nearby crowd of spectators ask: "Isn't he getting too big for those shorts?"

Charles gave her a sheepish look. But standard practice at most British boarding schools is for boys to wear shorts until they are 13 — no matter how big or gawky they get.

Steel Stocks Now Nearing Critical Low

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless the steel strike ends within the next two weeks, the nation faces its worst steel shortage since the end of World War II, Iron Age magazine said today.

The national metal working weekly said that steel stocks will drop to about 11 million ton next week.

"The total," the publication said, "is unbalanced as to location, product and gage. This has resulted in widespread gray market sales, shifting and trading of steel stocks and increased conversion."

Interest in conversion (buying of semi-finished steel from one source to be rolled at another mill) is mounting, the publication said. Buyers were said to believe conversion costs will run as high as 17 to 20 cents a pound.

"Mills have now given up hope," Iron Age said, "of an orderly recovery after the strike."

Superintendents of West Point Military Academy were confined to the Corps of Engineers from its beginning in 1802 until 1866 when it was opened to the entire Army.

High Altitude Platform Planned by Astronomer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. J. Allen Hynek, noted astronomer, is working on a method for observing the stars from a platform suspended high above the earth by huge helium-filled balloons.

The Air Force Office of Scientific Research Monday announced in Washington a $50,000 grant to further Dr. Hynek's project.

Dr. Hynek said he has been working on the assignment several months, with associates in the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Cops Rescue Bank Official From Thug

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police threw a cordon around a branch bank today and rescued the manager, who had been held by a holdup team.

Some two hours after Herbert Fox, manager of the Cleveland Trust Co. branch on Cleveland's west side, was taken from his home at gunpoint, police reported he was out of the building and safe.

They said Fox and some other bank employees were released by the holdup man after tear gas was fired into the building.

Then police chief Frank Story, using a public address system, ordered the man to come out "or it will be your funeral."

A few minutes later, police went in and found a man dead on the floor, a gun beside him. Whether he was killed or shot himself was not known immediately.

A woman reportedly was with the holdup man when he took Fox from his home. Who she was or what happened to her was not known immediately.

At least two women employees of the bank were caught inside, but they escaped through a broken window.

5 Men Held By FBI in Boxing Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Five men seized in a nation-wide FBI roundup are accused of trying to grab control of world welterweight champion Don Jordan.

A federal grand jury investigating underworld influence in boxing indicted them Tuesday in Los Angeles. They were arrested within a few hours in Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The indictments charged conspiracy to extort money from Jordan's manager, Don Nesselth of Covina, Calif., and Jackie Leonard, former Hollywood Legion Stadium boxing promoter.

Under arrest are: Paul John Carbo, known as Frankie Carbo, 55, of New York City. He is under indictment in New York for undercover management of fighters.

Frank (Blinky) Palermo, 54, Philadelphia boxing manager.

Truman Gibson Jr., 47, Chicago attorney, president of National Boxing Enterprises Inc., and former president of the International Boxing Club.

Joseph Sica, 48, Los Angeles, who has a record of arrests going back to 1928.

Louis Tom Dragna, 39, West Covina, Calif., manager of a clothing store and described as having been involved in bookmaking.

The indictment alleged that Palermo extorted $1,725 from Leonard through threats of harming him and Nesselth.

Philadelphia May Be Site Of Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The return heavyweight fight between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson will be staged in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium next June 7, providing two conditions are met. The Associated Press learned today.

A reliable source close to the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said that "according to Vincent Vellela we'll get the fight." Vellela is a director of Rosenzohn Enterprises Inc., which was associated in the promotion of last June's match when Johansson dethroned Patterson.

But the source, who did not want to be identified, made it quite clear that Philadelphia would take the fight only if "Vellela and his group come out clean in the current investigation by the New York State Athletic Commission on the promotional angles of last June's fight."

"And a subsequent investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commissions turns out okay," Johansson signed last Aug. 25 to defend his title in a return bout with Patterson. But at the time it was only specified that the bout would be held in the United States between next March 1 and June 15.

Temple Is Tipped For Cincinnati MVP Award of '59

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Who's been most valuable to the Cincinnati Reds this season? Johnny Temple is a top candidate again.

The hard-driving Carolina native showed again Tuesday the talents that this year have brought him to the zenith of his career.

Philadelphia beat the Reds 3-1 and 3-2, keeping the noted Red-leg hitting attack virtually powerless.

But Temple, the stringy, impetuous tobacco-chewing ball of fire who holds down second base, was one Rhinelander who hit well.

In the opener, he banged two hits in four tries, including a double, and scored Cincinnati's only run.

In the nightcap, he whacked a triple and scored once.

And he was his usual efficient self defensively.

Yet it's his hitting that is a marvel in his seventh complete season in the majors.

Temple is hitting .311, the National League's sixth best; he has seven home runs—as many as he had in those six previous seasons; he has 4 RBI—more than he ever accumulated in one season before.

Huffer Is Named 'Player of Week'

Dave Huffer, varsity tackle for the Circleville High School football team, has been named "Player of the Week" based on his consistent line play at Athens Friday.

This selection was made by the CHS coaching staff who made their decision after making a careful study of films of the game.

Coach Carl Benhase said Huffer played a steady game at his tackle post and carried out his assignments well. The films showed the 185-pound lineman getting more than his share of tackles and throwing some valuable blocks.

Coach Benhase said a "Player of the Week" will be named after each game this season. The election will be based on the execution of assignments, heads-up football and other fundamentals as shown in movies of the games.

HUFFER, one of the biggest men on the team, has the ability to play on both offense and defense. A review of the Athens film disclosed that he worked equally hard at both.

Coach Benhase said a couple of other Tigers were in the running for game honors, but Huffer was a decisive choice on the strength of his overall performance.

Activity at the CHS practice field Monday and yesterday was devoted to preparing for Friday's invasion by Columbus Rosary.

Rosary will bring a strong, well-balanced team here for the second year in a row. The Columbus eleven whipped the Tigers, 6-0, last year in its opening game, then went on to chalk an undefeated, untied and unscored upon season.

The Rosary clan opened its season on Friday by upending Gahanna, 22-0. CHS scouts John Adler and John Current said the team has excellent speed, strong runners and depth.

Six of last year's Rosary starters are back to form the nucleus of the team. Some of the lettermen include Tom Duffy and Joe Fairchild at tackles, John Breneman at guard, Jerry Spires at end and Dennis and Shawn Doherty and Bob Duckworth in the backfield.

COACH Benhase said the Tigers can expect to meet a rugged team, noting that the CHS griders will have to play inspired ball to adequately meet the challenge.

Films of the Athens game showed weakness in pass defense, along with the Tigers' inability to hang on to passes, their own and the enemy's. Coach Benhase said several golden opportunities were missed by not being able to hold on to the air-borne pigskin.

Practice today probably will center on more scrimmage work and the prime objective of learning assignments to the letter.

Kittens Ready For Grove City

Circleville High School's reserve football team will make its first official appearance here Thursday when the reservists of Grove City roll into town.

The CHS Kittens, coached by John Current and Jim Lint, will open their season with the 6 p. m. kickoff. The game will be played on the high school field.

Most of the Kitten squad will be composed of freshmen who will be seeing official game action for the first time. According to Coaches Current and Lint, the Tiger yearlings have been working hard in preparation for the opener.

They will use the same basic fundamentals taught to the varsity, including Coach Carl Benhase's T-formation and tight defensive patterns.

As is the case with the CHS varsity, depth is thin and experience lacking. However, the Kittens appear to be in physical trim and ready for action.

If You've Read All the Bad News in This Paper... Here's Some Good News About Gin

Until now, gin has left the still with "rough spots" which distillers smother carefully with juniper and other aromatics.

Now there is a gin with the rough spots distilled out. It needs no aromatic disguises.

This gin is sipping-smooth and dry as Vermont wit. You can make a Martini with just the gin and ice (ending forever the question of how much vermouth). Or you can take it straight without one wine.

We call it Schenley Smooth American Gin, mostly because that's what it is. Sometimes when we're feeling less formal, we refer to it as "S.A." You can too, if you like.

Three things for you to remember: (1) Schenley, (2) Smooth American, (3) Gin.

By the way, the code number is 334B, the price is only $3.61 a fifth. Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, eighty proof. Schenley Distillers Company, New York City.

15,00 Fans On Hand To Hail Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—The go-go White Sox returned to find their city really gone in the wee hours this morning over Chicago's first American League pennant in 40 years.

Some 15,000 fans waited from before midnight to past 2 a. m. at the airport for the victorious Sox' return from Cleveland. Long before that, sirens had blasted out the news that the White Sox were in the World Series.

Tears of joy glistened in the eyes of both club Vice President Chuch Comiskey and Manager Al Lopez as the big four-engine plane wheeled into the arched setting at the airport.

While the Chicago fire department band played and the thousands cheered, the players poured out of the plane to a hilarious greeting. It was almost 4½ hours after the White Sox had won their thrilling pennant-clincher from the Indians, 4-2, in Cleveland.

The loudest cheers went to Luis Aparicio, the phenomenal little shortstop, who started a game ending double play; Al Smith, who made a great run-killing throw and hit a homer; and veteran Early Wynn, who got credit for the big win.

Who would start in the World Series for the Sox?

"You can make a good guess," Lope told sports writers on the victory plane. He winked knowingly when they suggested Wynn or Bob Shaw, his two mound stalwarts all season.

The winner's 2:08 circuit produced $8, $5 and $3.20 at the mutuels.

Duke Yates, from the Day Don Farm, Royal Oak, Mich., won the sixth race and set a new track mark for 2-year-old pacers: 2:03.5 for the mile.

Dr. C. McCoy and Lucinda Jane combined for a $10.40 daily double.

Chisox Clinch American League Flag; Braves, Giants, Bums Vie in National

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The White Sox did it.

They did it like champs, clinching that long-awaited American League pennant in their final meeting with the one club that could snatch it from them.

They did it with a 4-2 victory over the second-place Indians at Cleveland Tuesday night, hauling in Chicago's first AL flag since 1919. They did it not with their magic singles, but with power—a pair of scoring doubles by Luis Aparicio and Billy Goodman, and successive sixth-inning home runs by Al Smith and Jim Rivera.

They did it with pitching and defense. Early Wynn, the old man the Indians didn't want, won his 21st, getting relief help from young Bob Shaw, the right-hander Detroit didn't want, and Gerry Staley, the reliever nobody wanted.

Staley, like Wynn a 39-year-old right-hander, wrapped it up, making his 65th trip from the bullpen this season in the ninth inning with one out and the bases loaded. With one pitch it was all over.

Vic Power swung at that first pitch of Staley's, Aparicio gobbled it up at short, stepped on second and threw to first for the Sox' fourth doubleplay, the doubleplay that ended 40 years of waiting.

The victory gave the White Sox a 4½-game lead over the Indians, who have but four games to play. The Sox have three left—before playing the opening game of the World Series in Chicago's Comiskey Park a week from today.

The White Sox, who had lost two in a row as their pennant push sputtered, whipped the Indians 15-7 for the season. This one climaxed a drive that began with a four-game sweep at Cleveland in late August. They won nine of the 11 games they played at the Indians' park.

In the other AL games, New York whipped Washington 8-4, Detroit beat Kansas City 6-4 and Boston defeated Baltimore 4-3. Philadelphia swept a two-night pair from Cincinnati, 3-1 and 3-2, in the other NL action.

Remember the last time, the National League had a three-team fight for the flag? It was 1956 and in the final week fourth-place St. Louis crashed Milwaukee out of it while the Dodgers stepped over seventh-place Pittsburgh to the pennant.

Cincinnati was the third club in on that down-to-the-wire race, finally given the gate by the Chicago

Cubs to finish third, two games shy.

The Braves have breezed to two flags since then, and now, driving for a rare third in a row, they've surged into a one-game lead, beating fourth-place Pittsburgh 5-3 Tuesday night while seventh-place St. Louis jarred the Dodgers out of a first-place tie by battering Los Angeles 11-10.

In keeping with that pennant pattern of three years ago, third-place San Francisco plunged two games behind with a 5-4 loss to the Cubs.

Each of the contenders has four games left. All finish the current series today. Then the Braves go home for a three-game weekend series with last-place Philadelphia while the Dodgers shift to Chicago and the Giants switch to St. Louis in the final run to decide who plays the Chicago White Sox in the World Series a week from today.

Milwaukee's late surge to become the first three-in-a-row NL winner since the Cardinals of 1942-43-44 now has given the Braves a four-game streak and 13 victories in their last 15 games.

To do it, they had to stand off a ninth-inning Pirate rally for the second night in a row. Lefty

Juan Piarro (6-2) beat the Bucs a third time after building a 4-1 cushion with a two-out, two-run double as the Braves scored three in the seventh off Harvey Haddix (12-12).

Reliever Don McMahon finally nailed it, giving up a pair of scoring singles by Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak before striking out pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson for the final out.

Andy Pafko doubled and John Demerit, replacing injured Bill Bruton in center field, beat out a bunt single for the Braves in the clinching seventh. Then, after Del Crandall, who had hit his 21st homer in the fifth, hit into a doubleplay and Felix Mantilla got an intentional pass, Piarro sliced his double just inside the left field line. Bobby Avila, who tripled in the first and scored on Hank Aaron's fly, then singled in the final run off Haddix.

Milwaukee took more than a percentage-point lead for the first time since June 30 as the Cardinals went to work on the Dodgers. Los Angeles, making it close on rookie Frank Howard's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the ninth, chased nemesis Larry Jackson in the first inning, but blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads.

Hal Smith bombed starting Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax with his first grand-slam homer in the first inning. After Gil Hodges' two-run, 24th homer gave the Dodgers the 6-4 edge in the third, the Cards came back with five runs in their half of the third. Curt Flood's three-run homer set it off against losing reliever Chuck Churn (3-2). Joe Cunningham singled in the tying run in the frame and a double by ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli scored the lead run.

The Cardinals won it with two runs in the fifth, getting the clincher on an error by Carl Furillo on Cimoli's RBI single.

The Giants dropped their fourth in a row on a two-run, two-out homer by rookie George Altman in the ninth. It came off Sad Sam Jones, working in relief and tagged with his 15th defeat, third in a row since winning his 20th. Don Elston (9-8) was the winner in relief, coming on in a two-run eighth when the Giants, who left nine men on base, scored twice for their only lead, 4-3.

The Cubs took fifth place with the victory as Cincinnati fell to sixth with a two-night double-header loss at Philadelphia, 3-1 and 3-2.

Kittens Ready For Grove City

Circleville High School's reserve football team will make its first official appearance here Thursday when the reservists of Grove City roll into town.

The CHS Kittens, coached by John Current and Jim Lint, will open their season with the 6 p. m. kickoff. The game will be played on the high school field.

Most of the Kitten squad will be composed of freshmen who will be seeing official game action for the first time. According to Coaches Current and Lint, the Tiger yearlings have been working hard in preparation for the opener.

They will use the same basic fundamentals taught to the varsity, including Coach Carl Benhase's T-formation and tight defensive patterns.

As is the case with the CHS varsity, depth is thin and experience lacking. However, the Kittens appear to be in physical trim and ready for action.

If You've Read All the Bad News in This Paper... Here's Some Good News About Gin

Until now, gin has left the still with "rough spots" which distillers smother carefully with juniper and other aromatics.

Now there is a gin with the rough spots distilled out. It needs no aromatic disguises.

This gin is sipping-smooth and dry as Vermont wit. You can make a Martini with just the gin and ice (ending forever the question of how much vermouth). Or you can take it straight without one wine.

We call it Schenley Smooth American Gin, mostly because that's what it is. Sometimes when we're feeling less formal, we refer to it as "S.A." You can too, if you like. Three things for you to remember: (1) Schenley, (2) Smooth American, (3) Gin. By the way, the code number is 334B, the price is only $3.61 a fifth. Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, eighty proof. Schenley Distillers Company, New York City.

15,00 Fans On Hand To Hail Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—The go-go White Sox returned to find their city really gone in the wee hours this morning over Chicago's first American League pennant in 40 years.

Some 15,000 fans waited from before midnight to past 2 a. m. at the airport for the victorious Sox' return from Cleveland. Long before that, sirens had blasted out the news that the White Sox were in the World Series.

Tears of joy glistened in the eyes of both club Vice President Chuch Comiskey and Manager Al Lopez as the big four-engine plane wheeled into the arched setting at the airport.

While the Chicago fire department band played and the thousands cheered, the players poured out of the plane to a hilarious greeting. It was almost 4½ hours after the White Sox had won their thrilling pennant-clincher from the Indians, 4-2, in Cleveland.

The loudest cheers went to Luis Aparicio, the phenomenal little shortstop, who started a game ending double play; Al Smith, who made a great run-killing throw and hit a homer; and veteran Early Wynn, who got credit for the big win.

Who would start in the World Series for the Sox?

"You can make a good guess," Lope told sports writers on the victory plane. He winked knowingly when they suggested Wynn or Bob Shaw, his two mound stalwarts all season.

Michigan Pacer Sets Lebanon Mark

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Minnie Dell paced off victory in the feature at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night, but Duke Yates, a 2-year-old, stole a little of the thunder.

Minnie Dell, from the Ellis Stable at Degraff, Ohio, picked up the lead at the start and fought off a late bid by Hi Lo Sal in the stretch to win.

The winner's 2:08 circuit produced $8, $5 and $3.20 at the mutuels.

Duke Yates, from the Day Don Farm, Royal Oak, Mich., won the sixth race and set a new track mark for 2-year-old pacers: 2:0 3-5 for the mile.

Dr. C. McCoy and Lucinda Jane combined for a $10.40 daily double.

A crowd of 2,177 bet $48,815.

Chisox Clinch American League Flag; Braves, Giants, Bums Vie in National

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The White Sox did it.

They did it like champs, clinching that long-awaited American League pennant in their final meeting with the one club that could snatch it from them.

They did it with a 4-2 victory over the second-place Indians at Cleveland Tuesday night, hauling in Chicago's first AL flag since 1919. They did it not with their magic singles, but with power—a pair of scoring doubles by Luis Aparicio and Billy Goodman, and successive sixth-inning home runs by Al Smith and Jim Rivera.

They did it with pitching and defense. Early Wynn, the old man the Indians didn't want, won his 21st, getting relief help from young Bob Shaw, the right-hander Detroit didn't want, and Gerry Staley, the reliever nobody wanted.

Staley, like Wynn a 39-year-old right-hander, wrapped it up, making his 65th trip from the bullpen this season in the ninth inning with one out and the bases loaded.

With one pitch it was all over. Vic Power swung at that first pitch of Staley's, Aparicio gobbled it up at short, stepped on second and threw to first for the Sox' fourth doubleplay, the doubleplay that ended 40 years of waiting.

The victory gave the White Sox a 4½-game lead over the Indians, who have but four games to play. The Sox have three left—before playing the opening game of the World Series in Chicago's Comiskey Park a week from today.

The White Sox, who had lost two in a row as their pennant push sputtered, whipped the Indians 15-7 for the season. This one climaxed a drive that began with a four-game sweep at Cleveland in late August. They won nine of the 11 games they played at the Indians' park.

In the other AL games, New York whipped Washington 8-4, Detroit beat Kansas City 6-4 and Boston defeated Baltimore 4-3. Philadelphia swept a two-night pair from Cincinnati, 3-1 and 3-2, in the other NL action.

Remember the last time, the National League had a three-team fight for the flag? It was 1956 and in the final week fourth-place St. Louis crashed Milwaukee out of it while the Dodgers stepped over seventh-place Pittsburgh to the pennant.

Cincinnati was the third club in on that down-to-the-wire race, finally given the gate by the Chicago

Cubs to finish third, two games shy.

The Braves have breezed to two flags since then, and now, driving for a rare third in a row, they've surged into a one-game lead, beating fourth-place Pittsburgh 5-3 Tuesday night while seventh-place St. Louis jarred the Dodgers out of a first-place tie by battering Los Angeles 11-10.

In keeping with that pennant pattern of three years ago, third-place San Francisco plunged two games behind with a 5-4 loss to the Cubs.

Each of the contenders has four games left. All finish the current series today. Then the Braves go home for a three-game weekend series with last-place Philadelphia while the Dodgers shift to Chicago and the Giants switch to St. Louis in the final run to decide who plays the Chicago White Sox in the World Series a week from today.

Milwaukee's late surge to become the first three-in-a-row NL winner since the Cardinals of 1942-43-44 now has given the Braves a four-game streak and 13 victories in their last 15 games.

To do it, they had to stand off a ninth-inning Pirate rally for the second night in a row. Lefty

Juan Piarro (6-2) beat the Bucs a third time after building a 4-1 cushion with a two-out, two-run double as the Braves scored three in the seventh off Harvey Haddix (12-12).

Reliever Don McMahon finally nailed it, giving up a pair of scoring singles by Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak before striking out pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson for the final out.

Andy Pafko doubled and John Demerit, replacing injured Bill Bruton in center field, beat out a bunt single for the Braves in the clinching seventh. Then, after Del Crandall, who had hit his 21st homer in the fifth, hit into a doubleplay and Felix Mantilla got an intentional pass, Piarro sliced his double just inside the left field line. Bobby Avila, who tripled in the first and scored on Hank Aaron's fly, then singled in the final run off Haddix.

Milwaukee took more than a percentage-point lead for the first time since June 30 as the Cardinals went to work on the Dodgers. Los Angeles, making it close on rookie Frank Howard's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the ninth, chased nemesis Larry Jackson in the first inning, but blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads.

Hal Smith bombed starting Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax with his first grand-slam homer in the first inning. After Gil Hodges' two-run, 24th homer gave the Dodgers the 6-4 edge in the third, the Cards came back with five runs in their half of the third. Curt Flood's three-run homer set it off against losing reliever Chuck Churn (3-2). Joe Cunningham singled in the tying run in the frame and a double by ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli scored the lead run.

The Cardinals won it with two runs in the fifth, getting the clincher on an error by Carl Furillo on Cimoli's RBI single.

The Giants dropped their fourth in a row on a two-run, two-out homer by rookie George Altman in the ninth. It came off Sad Sam Jones, working in relief and tagged with his 15th defeat, third in a row since winning his 20th. Don Elston (9-8) was the winner in relief, coming on in a two-run eighth when the Giants, who left nine men on base, scored twice for their only lead, 4-3.

The Cubs took fifth place with the victory as Cincinnati fell to sixth with a two-night double-header loss at Philadelphia, 3-1 and 3-2.

Gophers Face Struggle To Gain Big 10 Respect

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. —Once the scourge of the Midwest, the somewhat tarnished Golden Gophers of Minnesota face another struggle to get back into a respectable position in the Big Ten Conference this season, with a squad composed of mostly juniors and sophomores, given the usual "green" label by Murray Warmath, the head coach.

The Gophers, who haven't been able to win a Conference title in 18 years, went through a rough season last year, winning only one game although coming close in several of them. And for Warmath, in his sixth season, it could be a big one although he has three more years to go on his contract.

Home state talent, which is what the Gophers generally rely on, has been mediocre and the squad has been supplemented by a few out-of-state players although Minnesota has a tough time getting talent from elsewhere — and keeping it.

Only the other day, a quarterback who was the star of the All-Star High school game registered here but soon packed his bag and turned up at a school farther south. From the St. Paul area, where the population is 300,000-plus, only two of the first 33 players on the 1959 squad were produced.

There are the usual number of big farm boys here, but the line is not as big as Gopher lines have been — although it's not small by any means. The Gophers lacked speed in the halfback spots last year but overall there is much better speed this year even though this Minnesota speed means a 10.2 runner and not a 9-plus-second man.

Warmath, who needs to win one more game to be at the .500 level for his tenure here, sizes up this 1959 hopefuls in this way: "We'll be as strong as our quarterback position and as good as our injury luck. Our reserve strength is on the young side and it will have to come awful fast."

"We do have, I believe, good ultimate potential although it may come in a few weeks or not for 12 months."

The 1958 Gophers, who didn't win a game until the second last encounter of the season, had a rugged year in the injury department and at times played the third and fourth backfield.

This season Murray hopes "we've used up all our injury time" and with a year under the belt of the juniors the Gophers should make a more respectable showing, even if not classed as anything like a contender.

Murray mentions his quarterback slot as the key. And this will be manned by two reserves, Bob Johnson, who had an appendicitis operation in the middle of last season and played only 91 minutes, and Joe Salem, who played 101 minutes, and a highly-touted sophomore, Sanford (Sandy) Stephens.

Stephens, from Uniontown, Pa., and one of the few out-of-staters on the squad, probably will open at quarter although Murray won't say so at this time. He describes him as "a good runner and a boy with a strong arm. He may be a good passer halfway through the year."

The Gophers are pretty well fortified at fullback, where three let-terms return, headed by Roger Hagberg, a junior who did a lot of ball-carrying last year. The others are Tom Robins, and Jim Rogers, also juniors. Robins is the team's No. 1 punter.

At left half Arlie Bumstad, one of the six seniors on the first three elevens, is No. 1 A reserve last year, he had an arm operation and was out for five weeks during the disastrous 1958 campaign. Behind him is Judge Dickson, a sophomore from Clairton, Pa., who is a power runner and can do the century in 10.2.

The right half will be Bill Kauth, who did a fine job last year as the team's leading ball carrier. He also is a power runner. Behind him are Tom King, a sophomore with good speed, and Neil Bengtson, another sophomore who is the fastest man on the squad but never played 11-man football until he came to Minnesota.

"Our ends are a little faster than last year," explains Murray about the line starters. "And we have Dick Johnson, a speed boy, and Bob Deegan are the starters, with Tom McE, a senior, and Tom Hall, a sophomore from Wilmington, De., rated next."

Captain Mike Wright, an outstanding player, is one of the tackles, with Arnold Omsundson the other. They weigh in at 230 and 220 respectively.

Two good Conference football players, Jerry Sheller, 220, and Tom Brown, described by Murray as "a hunk of co-ordinated muscle," are the guards. Greg Larson, 223, is the center. Among tackle hopefuls is Frank Brixius, a 258-pounder.

DiSalle Ponders Special Election

6th District Congress
Decision Is Awaited

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says it will be Monday before he reaches a decision on whether to call a special election in the Sixth Congressional District.

The announcement followed an opinion from Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruling it is discretionary whether an election should be called for a successor to the late U.S. Rep. James G. Polk, a Democrat.

Since the special election, coinciding with Nov. 3 elections, could cost nearly $4,000, DiSalle indicated he might wait until 1960.

The incumbent congressman would serve only until Jan. 3, 1961, when regular congressional start new terms. The Sixth District is composed of Pickaway, Fayette, Ross, Highland, Pike, Clermont, Brown, Adams and Scioto counties.

The governor also said that regarding further investigation, legislative leaders will be consultation of lobbying activities in the state legislature.

A Franklin County grand jury recently indicted Robert E. Scott, coal mine lobbyist from Cambridge, on charges of failing to make proper expense reports.

The jury suggested a special grand jury might want to probe further. DiSalle said he would confer with both Democrat and Republican legislative leaders.

"If you call a special grand jury," he said, "at least you ought to have some reasonable certainty that you will have something to submit to them."

DiSalle said Prosecutor Earl W. Allison had offered numerous leads but no concrete evidence of wrongdoing on the part of lobbyists to influence legislation in the Ohio General Assembly.

Reporters Banned From Laotian Area

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government today banned correspondents from Sam Neua and in effect from northern fighting areas.

It reported "continued lively guerrilla activities" in a scattered arc around northern defense headquarters.

The government cracked down on the press charging "some incorrect reports" on the actual situation there. It did not elaborate.

Some Western correspondents who returned from the northeastern front Sunday night had described government reports of heavy fighting as highly exaggerated.

New Solidarity In Unions Seen

Neutral To Decide
Rival Labor Fusses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The biggest labor union story in years is developing today—and it has nothing to do with the California stopovers of visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

It is an historic agreement between the top leaders of the biennial AFL-CIO convention to submit disputes between rival unions of whatever character to arbitration, putting conflict up to the decision of an outside neutral.

The pact, worked out by federation leaders, demonstrates a new solidarity among labor chiefs in the face of what they view as a mounting businessmen's battle to weaken or exterminate labor organizations.

So convinced are the AFL-CIO leaders that they have found the solution to burying their conflicts and solidifying labor forces, they plan to hold a special convention next year to implement the peace plan.

A convention next year could have political implications. Normally the next AFL-CIO convention would be held in 1961.

A closed meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council Monday night ratified in the record time of 20 minutes a plan to solve inter-union strife that has plagued rival organizations for years and drained them of financial resources. There was no discussion.

Basically, the plan requires unions involved in any sort of dispute with a rival—over job right jurisdiction, raids between unions, boycotts of rival union products, or even organizing ethics—to let an outside neutral judge as to which one is right.

Each dispute would be decided on its own merits, without setting a precedent.

Woman's Trial Booked In Slaying of Mate

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Arleta Hankins, 49, of Conneaut, will go on trial Oct. 20 on a second-degree murder charge in the slaying of her husband, Merle C. Hankins, Ashtabula Star — Beacon business manager. She pleaded innocent at arraignment Tuesday. Her $20,000 bond was continued. Mrs. Hankins is charged with killing her husband with a revolver July 26.

Lady Driver Handed Stiff Court Penalty

Mrs. Betty Large, 29, of 360 Logan St., was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail today in Circleville Municipal Court on a charge of driving while her license was under suspension.

Mrs. Large's license was removed by the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court March 18, 1959. The removal was based on Ohio's new 12-point system for traffic violations.

Court records here show that Mrs. Large was convicted in 1958 for driving under the influence of intoxicants. She was arrested again in February of this year for driving under revocation.

In other court action, David L. LaRue, Route 2, Ashville, was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation. He was arrested by city police.

Robert Weffler, 18, of 449 E. Main St., was fined $5 and costs for no muffler. He was cited by local police.

Lester Sims, 43, Bluefield, W.

Va., was arrested by the State Highway Patrol for speeding at 62 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. He was fined $12 and costs.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Breast Lumps Dangerous— Male or Female

• Penicillin in Milk

Q. I am a man 76 years old. I have a lump under the right nipple that is at times quite painful. What could this be?

A. The inquirer has probably consulted a physician by now so this reply may serve only to emphasize a situation with which many people are unfamiliar. The small and undeveloped male breast is rarely afflicted with conditions that beset the more highly developed female breast but all breast lumps should be investigated—male or female. Serious conditions such as breast cancer are not unknown in men of all ages and even in boys. Not so long ago a physician told of seeing a 15-year-old lad who had noticed a lump beneath the left nipple. Following a football injury the lump became quite tender and a doctor was consulted. Surgery was performed and radium used but to no avail. The cancer had gone too far. The moral is—never ignore a breast lump—male or female.

Q. I have heard that much of our milk supply contains penicillin. How does it get into milk and is it harmful to drink such milk?

A. It is estimated that one out of four dairy cows in the U. S. has mastitis. Because the udder condition cuts down milk production, dairy farmers treat infected cows with penicillin. The antibiotic is later secreted in the milk. The Food and Drug Administration has recommended that milk containing antibiotics be considered "adulterated." Penicillin-containing milk and other dairy products can cause allergic reactions in certain persons. There may be other as yet unknown harmful effects of consuming small amounts of antibiotic via food products. The problem is under study and should be solved as quickly as possible.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

DiSalle Ponders Special Election

6th District Congress
Decision Is Awaited

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says it will be Monday before he reaches a decision on whether to call a special election in the Sixth Congressional District.
